Campbell Home Committee Opens Campaign
To Get Money For Home Restoration

A meeting of the Campbell Home Committee was held on March 2, at Bethany, W. Va., to discuss and approve final plans for the campaign to raise $150,000.00 for the repair, restoration and development of the Alexander Campbell Home (locally known as The Mansion) at Bethany. The campaign started officially, April 1, and will continue throughout 1951.

Pictures were made of the committee in various poses as the members made an inspection of the home. The above photograph shows the committee arranged in front of the fireplace in the old parlor, with Prof. Irvin T. Green, of Bethany College, pointing to an entry in a Millennial Harbinger subscription record book that shows his grandfather, S. P. Taylor of Kentucky, was a subscriber in 1850. Other members of the committee looking on are: standing, W. P. Harman, Executive secretary of the

"The Campbell Home ought to be preserved!"

That's what the Disciples of Christ have been saying since 1913 when the home was given to us by Mr. Earl W. Oglebay of Wheeling, West Virginia.

Now, our brotherhood is doing something about it. The Disciples of Christ Historical Society and Bethany College have been asked to assume joint responsibility in the preservation of this precious landmark of the beginning of our movement. A campaign for $150,000 was launched on April 1 to provide for the repair, restoration, development, and endowment of the Campbell Home.

A sixteen page brochure, giving the story of the Campbell Home and the plans for the Campaign, has been mailed to every church in the brotherhood. Additional materials may be ordered free of charge. A new 35 mm film strip entitled, "What Mean These Stones?", will be loaned without cost to churches desiring to use this series of new colored pictures of the house, inside and out. A script for a twenty minute program accompanies this film strip. Churches should order the Campbell Study offering boxes and the large poster for use in connection with taking an offering.

Members of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society should lead out in their churches in the support of the Campbell Home Project. This campaign for funds and the joint management of the Campbell Home is a responsibility resting upon our Society and thus upon all members. The success of this campaign and this project will help our Society in the achievement of the long-range program we have outlined. We must make good in this first important national project of our Society.

If we believe in the work of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society and in the preservation of the Campbell Home as a symbol of our religious heritage, then let us help to raise the $150,000 needed for this project.

MORE TIERS

The following additional facts have been discovered concerning M. C. Tiers, the man who made the lithograph of Alexander Campbell reproduced in the January issue of DISCIPLIANA.

Tiers' original trade was that of cabinet maker. From a letter written by him to the Christian Companion, issue of March 8, 1905, we learn that he left New York City in April 1842 "to go to Nashville, Tenn., to work at my trade as a cabinet maker." There he came in contact with Sandy Jones who took him on a revival tour of the churches in Tennessee and Southern Kentucky.

From "Religious Life of the Fathers," by Tiers in The Christian Standard, December 5, 1896, we find that he evidently was acquainted with the Campbells and the mansion for he wrote: "Who could have been in the old Bethany mansion and witnessed the pathos and fervor of the venerable Thomas Campbell or his son, Alexander, at prayer when the company were all on their knees around the family altar, and not realize they were in an atmosphere of spirituality and deep piety?" Since Thomas Campbell died January 4, 1854, Tiers must have been there in 1853 or earlier. (Read paragraph 9 of "A Rare Old Picture" in our last issue)

And finally an obituary of Tiers was located in The Christian Standard for August 5, 1905. Montgomery C. Tiers, an elder in the 169th Street Christian Church of New York City died July 18, 1905. Of nine children, only two daughters survived, Miss Catherine Tiers and Mrs. Henry Wilson, both members of the 169th Street church. He is buried in Woodlawn Cemetery.

New facts concerning Tiers and the lithograph, when discovered, will be reported in future issues.

THUMB-NAIL BIOGRAPHY OF GEORGE FORRESTER by John W. Neth, Jr.

Editorial Note: The author of the following sketch has a B. A. from Bethany (1940), an M. A. from Butler (1950), and is now completing his B. D. at Butler. The thesis which he is preparing is about George Forrester. Mr. Neth has located much new material concerning Forrester. One such pamphlet illustrates this article. Should any of our readers have additional information concerning Forrester they should write Mr. Neth at Madison, Indiana, where he is pastor of the First Christian Church.

George Forrester was born about 1782 in Ayton, Berwickshire, Scotland, the son of a farmer of that town named George Forrester. He was educated in mathematics and related subjects in Edinburgh. He was a minister for a period of his life prior to leaving Scotland.

Forrester emigrated from Edinburgh in the fall of 1810, arriving in Portsmouth, N. H., in the last days of October or the first days of November, 1810. He was 31 years of age in March, 1813 when he first petitioned for United States citizenship. His wife’s name was Agnes. His first child born in America, George William Forrester, was born in April, 1811. He resided with his family in Portsmouth until after July, 1814 and removed to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, arriving there in late October or early November, 1814. During his stay in Portsmouth he was the head of his own school. He refers to it as the first school of mathematics in the capitol of New Hampshire. In addition to this teaching he preached the gospel, lectured in theology, and wrote pamphlets in debate with the local Universalist leader, Rev. Hosea Ballou. The house in which he made his home was destroyed by the Great Portsmouth Fire of December 22, 1813.

Immediately upon his arrival in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in October-November 1814, he opened a school. He was still teaching in 1819 when Walter Scott met him. He was accidentally drowned in the Allegheny River while bathing in July, 1820. In addition to his teaching he preached and is accredited with organizing or assisting with the organization of a Scotch Baptist congregation which later, with others, became the First Christian Church of Pittsburgh. He knew the Campbells, both father and son, and after meeting Walter Scott in the summer of 1819, won him to a strong New Testament position, immersed him and gave him the impetus for which he (Scott) later became famous. His son, Robert H. Forrester, was co-editor with Walter Scott in the Protestant Unionist, 1844-1849.

George Forrester has been termed a Calvinistic Baptist preacher, a Scotch Baptist preacher and a Haldane preacher. He preferred the title of “Teacher of Mathematics,” which he used in publication. He refused to be a part of the Clergy.

Mr. Forrester was the father of at least 4 children, all being of age in 1842. Two, George William and Margaret Kadzie were born in Portsmouth. George Forrester became a citizen of the United States at Pittsburgh in 1819. His wife, Nancy Forrester, died August 5, 1850.

INDIRECT EVIDENCE FOR, BUT NO SUBSTANTIATING FACTS: (1) Educated at Edinburgh University; (2) student at Haldane’s seminaries; (3) close follower of A. McLean; (4) son, Robert H., probably born in Scotland; (5) daughter, Elizabeth, probably born in Pittsburgh, Pa.; (6) probably crossed ocean on Brig Rising States, Dennet, 37 days from Grenock arrived Portsmouth 29 October, 1810); (7) probably in full ministry with some religious group in Scotland.
ALPHAS TO SPIDER WEBS

College students look forward each year to the publication of the yearbook or annual which reviews in words and pictures the events of the college year just ending. Some are elaborate affairs costing thousands of dollars while others are more modest volumes published on a minimum budget. All, however, are valuable as yearly histories of the life and activities of the college campus.

Considering the great number of educational institutions sponsored by our brotherhood our holdings of yearbooks is rather small. A check shows the following in our archives:

Now that the yearbook season is again drawing near, we hope that college administrators and annual sponsors will remember to send a copy of the current issue to the Society and at the same time dig into the storage files and send those back numbers that we do not have.

WHO HAS THESE?

James T. Barclay, the first missionary of the American Christian Missionary Society, in a letter dated January 15, 1860, addressed to Isaac Errett, corresponding secretary of the ACM, wrote: “Finding the printing of tracts at Beirut rather expensive and inconvenient, I have made preparation to bring them out hereafter entirely myself. But being thus printer, publisher, and colporteur, as well as author, you may well conceive that much of my time is consumed in getting up and distributing the forthcoming series.”

Evidently the Jerusalem mission produced tracts on the field. Where can we find any of them?

MILLENIAL HARBINGERS
IN ORIGINAL COVERS

Several years ago we started hunting for Millennial Harbingers as issued in the original covers; an almost impossible task we thought. The Millennial Harbinger, like many other religious periodicals of the time, often had news notes, lists of subscribers, names of agents, and pertinent advertising on the covers as well as the usual table of contents. When the magazines were bound the covers were removed and thus some valuable source materials for research were destroyed.

Fortunately several batches of Harbingers were located and now we have the following years complete: 1841, 1842, 1844, 1848, 1849, 1851, 1852, 1853, 1854, 1855, 1856, 1857, 1858, 1859, 1861, and 1865. We have some monthly issues in all the remaining years except for 1863 and 1870. From 1850 to 1870 there were 492 monthly issues. We have 349.

Because of the value such a file will have when assembled, we are listing the years and numbers we need to complete our holdings:

DUPLICATE MILLENIAL HARBINGERS

In assembling our file of Millennial Harbingers, with original covers as issued, we have amassed hundreds of duplicates of these monthly numbers. A hurried check shows that we have duplicates of some months for all years except 1830, 1831, 1834, 1862, 1863, 1865, 1868, 1869, and 1870. For 1842, 1852, 1853, 1854, 1855, 1856, 1857, and 1858 we have complete sets with as many as six copies for some months.

Many are bright copies, others are dusty and stained. Some do not have the original covers. All are readable copies suitable for binding.

We want to find homes for these duplicates. We will exchange, 2 for 1, for Harbingers we need to complete our file, (see list on page ) or we will exchange for other materials. We will sell at reasonable prices.

Anyone who has missing numbers (even missing pages) from his Harbinger file should write us immediately.

HARBINGER FOR EXPORT!

Dr. A. T. DeGroot, dean of the graduate school of Texas Christian University has called our attention to a notice in the British Millennial Harbinger, February 1848, page 96, which is indeed interesting. A quotation follows: "In a letter dated November 28th, 1847, Brother Campbell says 'We are now putting up the Harbinger in the form of a newspaper, and have sent it to a few brethren in England and Scotland.'" An explanation was made that postage for this edition of the Harbinger would be much cheaper than for the periodical style that was regularly printed.

Thus probably another first can be attributed to Alexander Campbell; the printing of a special edition of a magazine for export purposes. At least he was nearly a hundred years ahead of the special paper editions of present day periodicals that are now published on both sides of the Atlantic.

But,—has anyone today ever seen a newspaper style Millennial Harbinger?

A photostat negative have been made of the pamphlet for our archives.

WANTED: Waller—Letters to a Reformer Alias Campbellite. Nashville, 1855, 95 pages.

LOST DOCUMENTS
Quite frequently people who are concerned with events in the making are not appreciative of the value of records of those events for succeeding generations. Two such documents were not saved although history tells us that records were made.

The eight or ten page list of reservations showing the views of the Brush Run Church when it became affiliated with the Redstone Baptist association has long been lost, as has been the record of the informal conference in 1874 which discussed the organization of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society.

Perhaps these two items may yet be discovered between the pages of an old Bible in someone’s attic.

We want to complete our files of the TCU Interpreter, a publication of Texas Christian University, edited by E. W. McDiarmid.

These meditations show that Jesus can be just as real a friend today to those who follow him as he was to those who followed him during his life on earth. Dr. O’Neill is minister of the Central Christian Church of Denver, Colorado. The book is most attractively printed and bound.

Sayre, John.

The story of Disciples interest in college students from the local church to the various types of student work in institutions of higher education, 1890 to 1948. The material in this volume was prepared as a two year study paper in the Yale Divinity School and is preliminary to a proposed revised edition to be issued in 1952.

HELPFUL HINTS

"If you have inherited documents which some kind soul has attempted to repair with sticky cellophane tape that has now become dark and stickier than ever, don't despair. Dip the taped part (or the whole document if necessary) in a mixture made of equal parts of toluene and benzene. The tape can then be gently pulled off. The chemicals will evaporate from the paper very quickly leaving the documents dry.

"To remove oil spots or to loosen adhesive tape use carbon tetrachloride. These chemicals generally are not harmful to either paper or ink, but it is always well to test a small piece before submitting a large document to the process.

"A warning to the wise which we hope will be carefully heeded is: NEVER USE CELLOPHANE TAPE TO REPAIR DOCUMENTS THAT YOU VALUE.

"To remove dirt and dust and many finger marks try rubbing the document very carefully with ‘Absorene,’ a wallpaper cleaner manufactured by The Absorene Mfg. Co., St. Louis, Missouri.”

The above suggestion for the cleaning and restoration of documents and papers is reprinted from the March 1951 History News, published by the American Association for State and Local History.
CALLING ALL MEMBERS

In this issue we report 37 new individual members. Our total is now 903. To have 1,000 members by May 7, our decennial anniversary, we must get 97 members in less than a month. That's not an impossibility if only a fraction of our membership would send in one or two new ones.

Then, there is the question of dues, or rather of dues past due. Upon checking we find that 304 individuals owe for 1951 and that 79 have not paid for 1950 and 1951. By sending your checks now you will save us the postage and work of sending out statements in May.

Founding Members
An individual who has paid yearly dues since the organization of the society in 1941 is classed as a founding member and receives a gold membership card each year. Any person can become a founding member by paying dues back to 1941.

In our list of founding members in the January issue, we omitted the name of A. Preston Gray, of Kingsport, Tenn., who has been a founding member since November 1946.

New founding members are:
Ira E. Adams, Fulton, Mo.
John H. Booth, Indianapolis, Ind.

Sustaining Members
A total of twenty individuals and churches have agreed to become sustaining members of the society for 1951 with the understanding that the $100.00 membership payment will be used in starting our expansion program next year. Two individuals and two churches have already paid their dues, while one institution has made part payment. We need a minimum of 40 more sustaining members before December 31, 1951.

We have postponed publishing a list of sustaining members until the July issue when we expect to have more members to report.

Local Church Members
The following churches have paid their $12.00 membership dues for 1951:

Wilshire Christian Church, Los Angeles, Calif.

University Place, Christian Church, Champaign, Ill.

First Christian Church, Hannibal, Mo.
First Christian Church, Jefferson City, Mo.

Christian Church, Webster Groves, Mo.
Central Christian Church, Youngstown, Ohio

We cordially invite more churches to become local church members of the society. Send a check for $12.00, with the names of the minister and one other, who will represent the church as individual members.
DISCIPLIANA, APRIL 1951

IT’S OUR BABY!

The success of the campaign to raise money for the repair, restoration and development of the Campbell Home will be determined largely by the amount of effort put into the project by the members of our society. Of all people we should know better than any others the urgency of the need for quick action.

Many words and lots of wind should not be necessary to get that action. Since our organization we have been concerned about the home, its condition and the possibility of its destruction by fire. For five years we have had joint responsibility with Bethany College to see to the safe keeping of the Home. That responsibility must be met. Write today for supplies and start working.

In the words of a popular phrase, “It’s our Baby”. Let us get busy.

VISUAL AIDS

From C. A. Weesner, Indianapolis, Ind., we received the film strips The Crusade Achieves and Work Awaiting the Crusade, together with the 16 mm. sound film He Restorith My Soul. Both mimeographed scripts and recorded narration (by Archie Mackey) accompanied the film strips.

We are always happy to secure films, film strips, and slides for our slowly growing collection of visual aids.

INVESTMENT

Each year in June many young ministers are being graduated from our Bible colleges and seminaries. Some of them are church history majors who know and appreciate the heritage of the brotherhood but perhaps the majority have only a meager knowledge of that heritage.

We believe that the beginning minister should be well grounded in the origins, development, and practices of our religious movement. We believe that members of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society receive a stimulus toward a further study of our history.

What better investment could be made by some individual or individuals with money than to give each graduating minister this year a membership in DCHS?

THE TIDE OF YEARS

In 1946 W. M. Forrest, retired director of The John B. Cary Memorial School of Religion of the University of Virginia, sent for our archives a collection of papers, clippings, letters, etc., relating to his life, writings, and work. Recently we received from him a 328 page manuscript autobiography The Tide of Years, which includes a 37 page section “The Forrests of England, Virginia, Maryland, etc.,” to be added to that collection.
ABOUT THE DISCIPLES OF CHRIST HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Disciples of Christ Historical Society was organized May 5, 1941, at St. Louis, Missouri, and received the approval of the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ which was then in session. The Society is custodian of International Convention and World Convention archives by official action of those conventions.

The purpose of the Society is to maintain and further the interest of the Disciples of Christ (sometimes known as Christian Church or Church of Christ) in its religious heritage, backgrounds, origins, and development.

Membership is open to any individual, institution or organization that is in accord with the purpose of the Society.

In 1946 the Society secured as a gift from Culver-Stockton College, the valuable Henry Barton Robison Collection of Literature Relating to the Disciples of Christ which contains thousands of books, periodicals, pamphlets, manuscripts and illustrative materials dealing with the religious groups which grew out of the Restoration movement fostered by Abner Jones, Elias Smith, James O'Kelly, Barton W. Stone, Thomas and Alexander Campbell, Walter Scott, and other reformers of the early 19th century in America. The collection is being used as a nucleus for a comprehensive research library.

The Society which became incorporated in the State of Missouri in 1946 maintains its headquarters in the Johann Memorial Library, Culver-Stockton College, Canton, Missouri where authors and publishers are asked to send copies of all new publications. Churches are requested to place the Society on their mailing lists to receive orders of worship, papers, reports, yearbooks and other printed records. Gifts and bequests from individuals are especially welcome.

The Society and Bethany College share joint responsibility, through the Campbell Home Committee, for the restoration, preservation, and management of the Alexander Campbell mansion at Bethany, West Virginia.

Classes of membership are as follows:

- Individual member, per calendar year $1.00.
- Individual founding member, $1.00 per year from 1941.
- Individual life member, one payment $25.00.
- Institutional member, per calendar year $15.00.
- Sustaining member, per calendar year, $100.00.
- Local church member, per calendar year $12.00.
- Institutional membership is offered to educational institutions and other organizations including state boards and national agencies.

Local churches should take advantage of the opportunity to share in the work of the Society by becoming members. The local church dues include individual memberships for the minister and one layman.

Publications of the Society are:

- Theses Concerning the Disciples of Christ, 1941. Out of print.
- Periodicals of the Disciples of Christ and Related Religious Groups, 1943. $1.00.

An Author Catalog of Disciples of Christ and Related Religious Groups, 1946. $7.50 ($6.00 to members.)

The Campbell Home

WILFRED P. HARMAN,
Executive Secretary of the Campbell Home Committee and National Director of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society.

Bethany, West Virginia

A part of the program for the restoration and preservation of the Campbell Home is locating furnishings and other items which were once in the home and returning them to the rooms where they were used.

As your National Director, I have located and secured some gifts of interesting and historical materials which are being returned to the Home. These items have come from descendents of Alexander Campbell and from friends of the family.

Dr. J. J. Barclay, a grandson of Alexander Campbell, of Grinnell, Kansas, gave oil portraits, articles of clothing, the old brass dinner bell and many other valuable articles.

A daughter of Dr. Barclay, Mrs. Max Martin of Pawnee City, Nebraska, gave the two prayer benches on which Alexander and Margaret kneeled to take their wedding vows, March 12, 1811. Mrs. Martin also shared pieces from a set of fine old china and glassware and some monogrammed silverware, all of which once graced the banquet table of the Campbell Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Royer Barclay gave four pieces of a Venetian glass tea set used by Decima Campbell when she was a child. Royer is a son of Dr. Barclay.

Julian Margarey Barclay, Campbell’s great-grandson of East Liverpool, Ohio, gave dishes, paintings, an olive wood table, a handmade piano cover, and other items for the home. Also, he gave many papers and historical articles to DCHS. His sister, Audine, who lives in Adelaide, Australia, is returning the center section of the banquet table to be placed with the two end tables already in the home.

Mr. John Hough of Bethany, W. Va. whose family were friends of the Campbells, has given a beautiful antique bed, dresser and wash stand, a gold leaf mirror, and some china and pictures which have been placed in the Home. These family pieces came into the possession of Mr. Hough through Alexander Campbell, Jr.

Mrs. James Gunion of Wellsburg, W. Va., who knew members of the Campbell family in their later years, returned the seven piece china water set which for many years was used in the bedroom of Alexander Campbell.

A gift of unusual significance was made by Rev. and Mrs. Glen W. Mell and their daughter Betty of Great Falls, Montana. They gave the old family Bible of Alexander Campbell to the DCHS to be placed on the table where it once rested in the Home. It was used by the Campbell family in their daily devotions and contains the family record in the handwriting of Alexander Campbell. The Bible was given to Mr. Mell in 1933 when he was minister of the Jefferson Street Christian Church of Spokane, Washington, by A. C. Barclay, a grandson of Alexander Campbell.

Gifts like these are something money cannot buy. We can restore the Home and grounds with the funds being raised, but only those people who have such Campbell materials can restore those pieces which will add to the historic value and beauty of the Campbell Home.

Anyone knowing of Campbell descendents or Campbell materials, please send this information to The Campbell Home Committee, Bethany, W. Virginia.
FIRST CAROLINA CONVENTION

Editorial Note: Charles C. Ware, North Carolina State Secretary and Curator of the Carolina Discipliana Library, had an exciting moment when he discovered the little pamphlet which is pictured on this page. Mr. Ware, a research man and collector of many years experience, is the author of Barton Warren Stone; North Carolina Disciples of Christ; Tar Heel Disciples and other works. He has been a member of the Board of Directors of DCHS since our beginning in 1941.

We now have the document showing conclusively that the first gathering of representatives of churches entitled “Convention,” held by North Carolina Disciples of Christ was at “Little Sister Meetinghouse, Lenoir County,” on March 28-30, 1834. The printed leaflet was found between the leaves of a mus-ty Bible in the home of a great-grandson of Charles Jenkins Rountree, one of the “representatives,” appearing in the “Convention.” Six churches from four counties in eastern North Carolina, were represented by thirteen persons and one “letter.” Significant line in the fugitive document, appearing after the statistics declares: “The above named brethren agreed to unite taking for their bond of union the word of God.”

It is a small four-page leaflet, giving minutes of proceedings on Friday, March 28, and concluding with a statement of principles adopted by this initial group of Disciples, signed by their committee: William Clark, Abram Congleton, and J. P. Dunn. Congleton presided at the meeting, and Benjamin F. Eborn was “Clerk,” Dunn had been ordered by the “Convention” to publish 500 copies. Hitherto, all of these had been lost, however, for our use, for over a century. We could not even know that this document existed. It had never been reproduced or cited in any form known to us. Dr. John Tomline Walsh, in his “Life and Times”, pages 73, 74, quoted most of the simple statistics, but he gave no citation, nor did he otherwise identify the source. Moreover, to confuse mat ters, from faulty memory in his advanced years, he dated the Little Sister meeting, Feb. 2-3, 1831, an obvious error, because at that time all six of these churches were yet in undissolved fellow ship with the Kehukee and Neuse Bapt ist Associations. After their excommunication in October, 1833, they freely formed this co-operation which after much growth and development functions in North Carolina today.

This title of extraordinary rarity is a welcome light on the misty background of Carolina Disciples history. Those who would know our people’s life as a whole are grateful, beyond words, for this delightful shift in the grim curtains of time.

WHO WAS “AN OLD DISCIPLE”?

Thomas Holman, tract printer of New York City, published several items by an author who used the pseudonym “An Old Disciple.” Two on baptism and one on regeneration were later brought together in volume II of Practical and Doctrinal Tracts issued by Holman in 1876. Any information as to identity of “An Old Disciple” will be much appreciated.
THE BARCLAY PASSPORT

On the front page of this issue of DISCIPLIANA is pictured a document having special historical significance this year. On February 8, 1851, Dr. James Turner Barclay arrived in Jerusalem to conduct the first missionary enterprise of the newly formed (in 1849) American Christian Missionary Society.

The official paper reproduced on our cover is the passport issued by the State Department of the United States, August 25, 1850, to Mr. Barclay, in order that he might travel to Jerusalem. The passport, measuring 16x21 inches when unfolded, was signed by Daniel Webster as Secretary of State.

This interesting document which, through the various visas, shows all the places the Barclay family visited on their trip to Jerusalem and return, was on exhibit at the Centennial Convention at Cincinnati, Ohio, in October 1949, through the courtesy of Mrs. J. O. Donaldson of Jackson, Mississippi. Mrs. Donaldson (Mary Elizabeth Jefferson) is a great-granddaughter of Dr. Barclay. Her mother was Julia Margaret Barclay (she married Samuel Mitchell Jefferson) oldest daughter of Robert G. Barclay, James T. Barclay's oldest son.

Lee C. Pierce, minister of the First Christian Church of Jackson, who brought the passport to the convention, made arrangements with Mrs. Donaldson for it to become a valuable part of our museum exhibit.

The October 1949 issue of DISCIPLIANA had a story about the document and Dr. Barclay but we were unable to reproduce the passport until permission was secured from the State Department. A quotation from that issue concerning Dr. Barclay is reprinted. "James Turner Barclay, 1807-1874, had an unusual career as a physician, missionary, college teacher and preacher. As a result of his experience in Jerusalem he wrote The City of the Great King, published in 1857, which was widely acclaimed as having material about Jerusalem not to be found elsewhere. Two of his children (including Robert G.) were born at Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, which Dr. Barclay owned for three years, 1832-1835. No adequate biography of the Disciples' first missionary has been written; one is needed."

In 1853, D. S. Burnet, corresponding secretary of the American Christian Missionary Society, compiled a book titled The Jerusalem Mission which was published by the American Christian Publication Society, Cincinnati. Since the sources used were Dr. Barclay's letters and journal, the book is the official history of the beginning and first years of the mission. Because of the scarcity of the work, the Society proposes to have a reprint on microcards, announcement of which is made elsewhere in this issue.

THE MISSIONARY VOICE

When Butchart, Toronto, Canada, recently sent us two issues of The Missionary Voice, we secured our first numbers of a periodical long searched for without success. The Missionary Voice, "devoted to world wide evangelism," was first issued in 1893 or 1894 as a 4 page promotional quarterly published by the Foreign Christian Missionary Society, Cincinnati, Ohio, and edited by A. McLean and F. M. Rains. The price was ten cents a year. The Christian Oracle, February 22, 1894, reported the receipt of the first issue.

Mr. Butchart sent Vol. 10, no. 1, dated November-January, 1902-03; and no. 4, August-October, 1903. Mr. McLean and Mr. Rains were still the editors, the price remained at ten cents the year. The size was 10 x 15 inches.

Just why there are no files extant of this periodical is problematical. Even though a subscription price was indicated, Mr. McLean offered in 1898 to send free copies to those who requested them. Evidently many copies were sent out each quarter. Perhaps the type of periodical; i.e., promotional, kept it from being saved.

The exact date of the ceasing of publication is not known. The last mention made of it in the Yearbook was in 1907, so probably it was not published after that year.

Undoubtedly copies of The Missionary Voice are in attics and storage closets. The society will be everlastingly grateful for any issues that may be located and contributed.

DISCIPLIANA, JULY 1951 21
FROM M. H. COVERS.

For several issues we will give attention under this heading to items found on the covers of the Millennial Harbinger. As mentioned in a previous issue of DISCIPLIANA, all bound files of the Harbinger lack the original covers on which were often printed news notes and other material not published inside.

One most interesting advertisement is reprinted here in full from the March 1848 issue:

"ONE ARGUMENT, THOUGHT TO BE DECISIVE OF THE TRUTH OF CHRISTIANITY—By a student of Bethany college.

Such is the title of a very sensible, beautiful, and instructive Tract, just issued by Brother M. E. Lard, especially useful to youth, and well adapted to confirm the faith of the wavering, and to furnish good reasons for the hope of the resurrection of the just. They are sold at 50 cents per dozen, handsomely covered and stitched, and can be mailed to any part of the Union for some 10 cents per dozen. Those who order a hundred copies for distribution will be supplied on still more liberal terms. If of any one argument it can be justly said that it is unanswerable, we may safely affirm the conviction that it is strictly true of this one.

This may easily be Lard's first appearance in print and may have been overlooked by students of Lard since the author's name evidently was not on the title page. Lard graduated from Bethany College in 1849.

We have never seen a copy of this item which must be very rare.

THE HERALD OF GOSPEL LIBERTY

A recent purchase is a set of the Herald of Gospel Liberty, vols. 1-8, 1808-1817, on microcards. This periodical, claimed to be the first religious newspaper ever published, was edited by Elias Smith, from Portsmouth, New Hampshire. Volume 1, no. 1 was dated September 1, 1808.

Smith, a member of the reforming group known as Christians, moved to Portland, Maine, with volume 1, no. 44, February 27, 1810, and to Philadelphia, with volume 3, no. 75, July 5, 1811. He was back at Portsmouth with volume 6, no. 12, February 4, 1814 and moved to Boston with volume 8, no. 1, August 1816. The last issue under Smith's editorship was October 1817. A new paper, The Christian Herald, was started for the Christians by Robert Foster, May 1818, at Portsmouth. We have vols. 1, 2, 5, 6, and 7 of The Christian Herald.

For the complete story of The Herald of Gospel Liberty read The Centennial of Religious Journalism, 1908, by J. P. Barrett.

QUILTS AGAIN

A reference has been found to another quilt having historical value. We quote from the Missionary Tidings of January 1892: "The wonderful quilt, into which are wrought pieces of the garments of Alexander Campbell and family, that was sent by Mrs. Decima Barclay to the Allegheny City Convention and there exhibited, found a purchaser. Mrs. Rachel Clay, Braddock, Pa., pays therefor $100, $50 to the F. C. M. S. and $50 to the C. W. B. M."

Should this quilt still be in existence, arrangements ought to be made to place it in the Campbell Home after the restoration.

WANTED: DISCIPLIANAS

Our stock of certain issues of DISCIPLIANA is completely gone while other numbers are very short. We need the following:

May 1941; October 1941; December 1941; and April 1942 (all mimeographed on green paper); April 1944; April 1945; January 1946; April 1946; July 1946; and July 1949 (printed issues).

The October 1950 issue will also be scarce shortly.
THE NEW TESTAMENT TRACT SOCIETY

At a Congress of Churches of Christ held in Louisville, Ky., December 6-8, 1921, The New Testament Tract Society was organized. The purpose of the society was “to publish and distribute constructive tracts that deal with the fundamentals of the Scriptures, and to assist in making clear the principles of the restoration of the New Testament church.”

The officers of the organization were: P. H. Welshimer, president; Mark Collis, vice-president; C. N. Williams, secretary; Adam B. Crouch, treasurer; John O. Chappell, financial secretary; and E. J. Meacham, chairman of distribution. The editorial committee was composed of R. E. Elmore, W. R. Walker, O. E. Linwood, and Mattie M. Boteler. The financial was J. W. Morrison, W. W. Estel, and John McMeekin. Headquarters of the society were in Cincinnati, O.

According to an early announcement “The Society is dependent upon voluntary gifts of churches and individuals of the brotherhood. Any person contributing any given amount will be privileged to receive in return tracts valued to the amount of the gift.” A news story in The Christian Standard about the formation of the society stated that individual member dues were to be $5.00 and church member dues $25.00.

At least 17 tracts were published. We have the following in our archives:

Briney, W. N. Baptism. 16 pages.
Briney, W. N. Evolution in Schools and Colleges. 22 pages.
Calhoun, H. L. What Destructive Criticism Destroys. 19 pages.
Crystal, E. L. The Christian and His Money. 11 pages.
Tate, B. W. Why I am a Member of the Church of Christ. 12 pages.

These titles were issued but we do not have any of them:

Dunn, C. V. Authority in Religion.
Elmore, R. E. The China Mission and the UCMS.

AN ARKANSAS PERIODICAL

We have recently received volume 1, no. 3, of The Twentieth Century Church, dated March, 1912. This periodical, which carried as a sub-head “an inter-denominational monthly devoted to answering the prayer of Jesus for Christian Union,” was issued by the Twentieth Century Publishing Company of Pine Bluff, Arkansas. C. C. Cline was the managing editor. Officers of the company were W. F. Parker, president; E. L. Vail, business manager; Perry Martin, vice-president; and F. G. Hines, secretary.

Naturally we want to learn more about The Twentieth Century Church and we want to secure other issues.

DISCIPLES ARE POETS

cal churches who have had books of poetry published that have never been publicized, and, consequently, we are ignorant concerning these people and their books. If there is a poet in your congregation, find out if his works are in the DCHS collection, and if they are not, make arrangements for copies to be placed there.

For inclusion in our collection, the author must be a member or have been a member at one time of the Disciples of Christ, the churches of Christ, or the Christian connection. Or, the poems may be about our members, our churches, or our beliefs.

There are the names of 123 writers on our poetry list. For 56 we do not have any work.

Foster, R. C. The Lordship of Jesus.
Foster, R. C. The Tower of Babel.
Lappin, S. S. Missionary Society and Churches of Christ.
Miller, R. H. Faith.
Pendleton, P. Y. Repentance.
Smith, J. H. O. The Menace of Centralization.

Can anyone let us know more about the NTS? When it ceased to function? Were additional tracts published? Was there a constitution and by-laws? Were other meetings held besides the organizational one?
WANTED

We quote from the American Home Missionary, January 1898: “This year a magazine, known as Christian Education Among the Disciples of Christ, will be issued every four months, the first issue appearing December 1, 1897.” This new periodical was to be published by the Educational Board of the American Christian Missionary Society. In the 1899 Yearbook Mrs. A. A. Forrest was listed as the editor of the Educational Bulletin. Were these two the same publication? Where can we locate any copies?

A BUSY MAN

Dr. Louis A. Warren, director of the Lincoln National Life Foundation, Fort Wayne, Indiana, and member of the executive committee of DCHS has recently completed his annual speaking tour. His schedule, starting in Wichita, Kansas, January 24, was completed March 16, in Des Moines, Iowa. During the intervening time he appeared in twenty additional western cities, mainly on the Pacific coast.

Over a period of twenty-two years Dr. Warren has addressed 2,387 audiences with an attendance of 812,368 people, not including radio addresses and special talks at Foundation headquarters. He is prepared to talk on eighty-one different Lincoln topics.

MICROCARD PROJECT

The Society proposes to reprint on microcards this scarce book:

In order to insure the republication we must have orders for at least ten sets of cards. We now have orders for five sets. The probable price will be $1.50. If interested, write the Curator immediately.

On June 14, 1951, the room in the new Atlantic Christian College Library housing the Discipliana Library, Charles C. Ware, Curator, was officially named The Barton Warren Stone Memorial Room.

CALLING ALL MEMBERS

Membership Now 1101!

In our last issue we reported 903 individual members. Since the first of April 198 members have been added and our new total is 1101. This large increase is due mainly to W. P. Harman, our National Director-elect who has been securing members along with his presentation of the Campbell Home at various state conventions, to Henry K. Shaw who represented the Campbell Home Committee and DCHS at the Ohio State convention, and to a few persons who secured one or two new members each.

Dues

We have put off mailing statements to those 300 individuals who have not sent their dollar for 1951 and the few who still owe for 1950 and 1951, because we hoped that those dollars would come in after our paragraph in the April DISCIPLIANA. Although some members responded promptly, the great majority did not and we shall have to send reminders soon. A check mailed now will save us needed time and money.

Visitors

During the past six months a number of persons have visited our headquarters for information and research. At the present time, Prof. Harold C. Svanoe of Central College, Fayette, Mo., is working on material for a Ph.D. thesis (Northwestern University) on the speaking and preaching ability of Burris A. Jenkins.

A. T. DeGroot, member of DCHS Board of Directors and Dean of the Graduate School of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, Texas, spent a day here in April hunting the publications of the World Faith and Order movement and making arrangements for some exchanges, and just visiting.

Prof. Evan Ulrey of Harding College, Searcy, Ark., was here a few days in June working on a Ph.D. thesis (Louisiana State University) on the preaching of Barton W. Stone.

Alvin Jennings, Butler University, stopped by this spring on a search for material for an M.A. thesis about T. M. Allen.

Bill Patterson, Drake University, who is writing an M.A. thesis, Bible Class Teaching in the Church of Christ, came this spring for consultation as to the location of source materials.
Allean Lemmon Hale, Christian College, Columbia, Mo., spent a few hours at our headquarters this spring.

Gilbert Weidman, pastor of the First Christian Church of Quincy, Illinois, has organized a committee to do research in the history of the church. Members of the committee are currently searching our periodical files for references to Quincy and Adams County.

A group of women from the First Christian Church, Kirksville, Mo., visited our headquarters last October and spent an hour or so looking at various exhibits.

For lack of space it has been necessary to omit our New Books Received column and to hold over until next issue the announcement of several important gifts.

As members of DCHS, our energies should be directed towards making a success of the campaign to raise $150,000 for Campbell Home restoration and development. But we must not lose sight of the fact that our own ten year long-range program gets under way in 1952 and that many $100.00 sustaining memberships from individuals and churches are necessary in order to finance our beginning expansion.

We will send a quantity of promotional blotters and application blanks to any member who will try to secure new members. Don’t forget that a Campbell bust will be given free to you for each member you get and one will be given to each new member. This offer may expire any time, so hurry!

Nearly two hundred members are receiving DISCIPLIANA for the first time. We welcome them to fellowship in the only organization in the Brotherhood whose sole purpose is locating, collecting, cataloging and arranging for use the historical materials of our American reformation and restoration movement. May each of us benefit by our association together.

The Restitution Herald, organ of the Church of God, Oregon, Ill., for April 24 and May 22, 1951 had articles concerning Benjamin Wilson, author of The Emphatic Diaglott, that told of Wilson’s Disciple background and early interest in Dr. John Thomas.

Miss Ada Forster has completed her work on a history of the church in Minnesota.

ABOUT THE DISCIPLES OF CHRIST HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Disciples of Christ Historical Society was organized May 5, 1941, at St. Louis, Missouri, and received the approval of the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ which was then in session. The Society is custodian of International Convention and World Convention archives by official action of those conventions.

The purpose of the Society is to maintain and further the interest of the Disciples of Christ (sometimes known as Christian Church or Church of Christ) in its religious heritage, backgrounds, origins, and development.

Membership is open to any individual, institution or organization that is in accord with the purpose of the Society.

In 1946 the Society secured as a gift from Culver-Stockton College, the valuable Henry Barton Robison Collection of Literature Relating to the Disciples of Christ which contains thousands of books, periodicals, pamphlets, manuscripts and illustrative materials dealing with the religious groups which grew out of the Restoration movement fostered by Abner Jones, Elias Smith, James O'Kelley, Barton W. Stone, Thomas and Alexander Campbell, Walter Scott, and other reformers of the early 19th century in America. The collection is being used as a nucleus for a comprehensive research library.

The Society which became incorporated in the State of Missouri in 1946 maintains its headquarters in the Johann Memorial Library, Culver-Stockton College, Canton, Missouri where authors and publishers are asked to send copies of all new publications. Churches are requested to place the Society on their mailing lists to receive orders of worship, papers, reports, yearbooks and other printed records. Gifts and bequests from individuals are especially welcome.

The Society and Bethany College share joint responsibility, through the Campbell Home Committee, for the restoration, preservation, and management of the Alexander Campbell mansion at Bethany, West Virginia.

Classes of membership are as follows:

- Individual member, per calendar year $1.00.
- Individual founding member, $1.00 per year from 1941.
- Individual life member, one payment $25.00.
- Institutional member, per calendar year $15.00.
- Sustaining member, per calendar year $100.00.
- Local church member, per calendar year $12.00.

Institutional membership is offered to educational institutions and other organizations including state boards and national agencies.

Local churches should take advantage of the opportunity to share in the work of the Society by becoming members. The local church dues include individual memberships for the minister and one layman.

Publications of the Society are:

- Theses Concerning the Disciples of Christ, 1941. Out of print.
- Periodicals of the Disciples of Christ and Related Religious Groups, 1943. $1.00.
- An Author Catalog of Disciples of Christ and Related Religious Groups, 1946. $7.50 ($6.00 to members.)

Subscriptions to DISCIPLIANA, gifts for the Society, payment of dues, and inquiries concerning the work of the Society should be sent to:

DCHS To Start Full-Time Operation June 1

Headquarters To Be Moved To Nashville

STAFF OF THREE ANNOUNCED

At a meeting of the Board of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society in St. Louis, Mo., November 29, decision was made to begin full-time operation with a staff of three people about June 1, with headquarters and archives located in Nashville, Tennessee.

This important step towards achieving the objectives stated in our long range program prepared two years ago has been made possible because of a very generous and attractive offer to the Society by a city-wide committee headed by Forrest F. Reed of the Tennessee Book Company of Nashville. By accepting the offer the Society will be able to do in 1952 the things formerly scheduled for 1957 through the normal development of the expansion program as outlined in the July 1950 issue of DISCIPLIANA.

The Headquarters and archives will be housed in the Joint Library on the Vanderbilt Campus for a few years until a building of our own can become a reality. The space in the Joint Library (air conditioned and humidity controlled) is adequate for our use for perhaps a five year period.

The removal of the headquarters and archives from Canton and Culver-Stockton College is done with a sense of grateful appreciation for all that the college has meant to the Society. By allowing the college librarian to give part of his time (full time this fall) as curator of the Society by allowing the Society to use the Robison Collection as a nucleus around which our own ever enlarging library and archives has been built, and by housing the headquarters and archives, Culver-Stockton has made a major contribution to brotherhood, scholarship and research that has not been matched by any other Disciple institution.

Nashville is a city with wide cultural, religious, educational and publishing interests. Baptists and Methodists have large historical libraries there which should give DCHS opportunities for eumecnical relationships hardly possible in any other place. For the first time a Disciple agency becomes located in the South which has long felt the need for closer ties with the main stream of brotherhood life and interests.

Prof. Ronald Osborn, DCHS president, announced that the personnel of the staff for the new set up would be Wilfred P. Harman, national director in charge of public relations; Claude E. Spencer, curator in charge of library and archives; and Miss Christine Buder, secretarial assistant to the curator and national director. Mr. Harman and Mr. Spencer need no introduction to members of the Society. Miss Buder, now assistant librarian of Culver-Stockton College, worked for the curator for four years as secretary while she was a college student. She has an M. S. degree in library science from the University of Illinois. Mr. Spencer will start work immediately for the society, making ready for the move in the spring. Mr. Harman will continue as director of the Campbell Home Campaign, and Miss Buder will begin her duties June 1, 1952. All correspondence should continue to be directed to Box 226, Canton, Mo.
THE CAMPBELL HOME

WILFRED P. HARMAN, Executive Secretary of the Campbell Home Committee and National Director of the Disciples of Christ
Historical Society.

Bethany, West Virginia

Interest in the Campaign to preserve the Campbell Home is growing. Gifts have been received amounting to more than $40,000 in cash and pledges. 194 items, once used by the Campbell family, have been returned to the Home.

Rev. Robert Campbell, Santa Monica, California, a grandson of Alexdor Campbell, gave oil portraits of his father and mother, Colonel Alexander Campbell and his wife. A large number of books from his library were given to the Historical Society.

Miss Alice Campbell and Miss Jeanette Campbell, Los Angeles, California, grandaughters of Alexander Campbell, gave a hand-made table-desk used by their father, William, when he was a child, several pieces of gold-hand china, a water color, painted by Alice, of the views from Pendleton Heights, to the Campbell Home. A number of books and ephemera were placed in the archives of the Historical Society, and also helped information on the Home and its furnishings.

Dr. and Mrs. Haldred A. Watson, Newport Beach, California, both of whom are direct descendents of Alexander Campbell, shared their treasured posse-sions, which include a crocheted bed spread and bolster, two quilted cover-lids, and other items made by Selina, the wife of A. C., and also her wicker sewing basket. Among the other articles were: a watch owned by Samuel Bakewell, oil paintings by W. Loos, and Mary A. Campbell, a 400 day clock owned by Alexander, Jr., and many other items.

Julian Magarey Barclay, East Liverpool, Ohio, a great grandson of Alex-der Campbell, gave additional items which his mother had saved for many years. Pieces of old china, flat silverware, an old oil lamp, a set of Chinese dinner gongs, old coins and many other items.

Mrs. Audine Barclay Andrews, a great granddaughter, of Adelaide, Australia, sent a peasant's waist from the tros-seau of Decima Campbell and also the old extension dining room table, used by Mr. Campbell during his lifetime.

Numerous other pieces of Campbell material have been located and it is hoped that many of these can be secured for the Home.

Every loyal member of our churches ought to rejoice in restoration of the Campbell Home as a symbol of our religious heritage. Every member, every church and every organization in our brotherhood ought to share in this significant project.

WHY COMBINED ISSUE?

Since 1941 DISCIPLIANA has been published four times a year without any irregularity in its numbering except for a typographical error that made the Oc-
But for reasons of expediency, it is necessary to combine the October 1951 and January 1952 numbers as volume 11, no's 3 and 4.

Because of the important announcement on the first page of this issue, we thought it advisable to hold the October number until after the meeting of the DCHS Board of Directors in St. Louis,
November 29. We wanted our members to get this news from us rather than from other sources, as would be the case if we had published the October issue before the Board meeting, and the news would have been second hand by January. So a combined issue, containing 20 pages (the largest DISCIPLI-ANA printed), is the result.

The March issue, with further information concerning DCHS plans, will be sent out late in February.
AN APPRECIATION OF ALEXANDER CAMPBELL
by Virginia Campbell Thompson

Editorial note: Just a few months before her death on November 17, 1923 Miss Thompson wrote this unfinished characterization of her grandfather, Alexander Campbell, which we consider a very fine tribute to "the Sage of Bethany." This fragmentary piece of writing was among Miss Thompson's manuscripts and papers that we received from Mrs. O. W. Wallace, New Brighton, Pa. Mrs. Wallace, also a Virginia Campbell Thompson, is a niece of the author.

Sunday morning April 15, 1923.

By some mischance of Fate, I have been a disappointment to those who revere the inherent memories of my grandfather.—He was a noted man, in certain circles, in his time,—for his piety; his learning; his gentle aggressiveness of thought and purpose.

His time was before my day—I had not been born into this misplaced life of mine, when he, serene with age and accomplishment, happy in a faith unshaken of joy eternal, smiled in the radiance of an early March sunset and was gone in his long way of gladness, rejoicing.

I have always felt that I would have known him in reality—not traditionally. He had the heart of a child, with the intellect of a master—though in our hearts we would have understood each other and been unmindful of the difference in years between us—that is why I take up for him now, when I hear people narrow and puritanically severe, saying that he, if living, would say and think, thus and so, as they think and act.

I am convinced he would feel like thrashing the breath out of them—verbally, if not physically!

"Times change and we change with them"—so, he, I am sure, would keep progressing, thoughts alive and purpose burning to the duties of each successive change.

He was a man in those days—and I firmly believe that he would be greater, if now in his prime,—spreading his widening religious and educational theories broadcast—with the integrity of his zeal, the power of his logic and the beauty of his language, that made him a leader of men when the facilities of transit and intercourse were crude and hampering.

However that may be, he was a good man—and he reaped the reward of goodness—for he died, honored and loved, revered by thousands—and the memory of him persists to this day.

I wish that I might have known him! not because he was great or good or interesting—but because he was the devoted father of my adored mother—she often accompanied him on many of his journeys or helped him in his old study at home—to her never-forgotten joy. I have frequently been told that she, of all his fourteen children, most closely resembled him, in the breadth of mind, generosity of heart and energy of purpose that brought him fame throughout the regions that knew him.

But where their kinship was most closely beautiful and where I find the golden thread of their two magnetic personalities mingling within my own spirit is through their mutual love of nature, their unfailing delight and interest in trees especially—their desire to plant and see grown trees of usefulness and beauty;—their delight in all flowers of rare and lovely kinds—their devotion to the charm of (Miss Thompson did not complete the article).

WELLSBURG RECORDS

The Board of the Wellsburg (West Va.) Christian Church by official action has placed the original church records, 1823-1886, in the archives of the Society for safe keeping. This church, established in 1823, was the secnd one in the reformation advocated by the Campbells. The first of the three volumes of records received was begun by Robert Richardson in 1833 on the request of the church and contains a history from 1823 to 1833 that was written by him. The title page of this volume which reads "Re- cord of the Origin and Proceedings of the Church of Christ at Wellsburg, Va., 1833" was undoubtedly hand lettered by Richardson.

PSEUDONYMS

For various reasons, many men and women have been writing books, tracts, letters, and articles for periodicals, under names other than their own for a long time, and Disciples have been no different in this respect than other people. From the time Alexander Campbell wrote letters for the Pennsylvania newspaper under the names of Bonus Homo, Candidus, and Clarinda to the present Bell Ringer in the World Call, there has been a procession of individuals writing under assumed names.

Often it is quite necessary to know the real name of an author in order to correctly evaluate the writing in terms of his or her education, environment and experience. Catalogers always try to find the real name of a pseudonymous author.

We are listing here some of the fictitious names which Disciples have used and their real names:

Ailenroc—Sarah Cornelia Borden Alexander.
Alumnus—Robert Richardson
Aquila—J. C. Wilkes
Aunt Maria—Laura Gerould Craig
The Barefoot Preacher—Abraham Snethen
Henry C. Blount—John William Ellis
Bonus Homo—Alexander Campbell
Candidus—Alexander Campbell
Clarinda—Alexandria Campbell
Discipulus—Robert Richardson
Carol Elmore—Thomas Elmore Lucy
Eudora—Eudora Lindsay South
Eusebius—Isaac Errett
Clarke Gardner—William Edward Adams
Arthur Gordon—Herbert Lockwood Willett
Weeks Hampton—Abraham Martin
Jeb—John Breckenridge Ellis
The Layman—S. M. McCorkle
Frances Little—Fannie Caldwell Maulay
Frank Luther—Francis Luther Crowe
Laurence R. Mansfield—William Mentzel Forrest
Senah Nedra—Arden Hanes
Parthenos—Walter Scott
Philip—Walter Scott
Dr. William Prentice—Edgar Dewitt Jones
Quidnunc—Joseph Edward Moseley
Reuben—Morton H. Pemberton
A. D. Sector—Arthur Orlando Garrison

We have not been able to learn the identity of these writers, most of whom contributed to The Christian Baptist and The Millennial Harbinger:

Adelphos
Amos
Archippus
Daniel
Didymus
Epaphras
Evergreen
Justice
Mattathas
Moses
No Juvenis
Philalethes
Philoneos
R. E. Porter
Publicus
Scalex
Theophilus
Timothy

Undoubtedly many more people have written under assumed names than we have recorded. We shall be grateful to any of our readers who can send the correct name for any on our list of unknowns or can send us a pseudonym not listed above.

VISITORS

Visitors at our headquarters recently have been Stafford North, Baton Rouge, La., working on an M. A. thesis at the Louisiana State University on the speaking of Walter Scott; Leslie Kingsbury, working on a thesis on Alexander Campbell’s philosophy for a degree from Edinburgh University; Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Mosley of Indianapolis, Ind.; Harold R. Burkhart of Kansas City, Kan.; and Forrest Reed of Nashville, Tenn.

November 1 the Christian Woman’s Fellowship group from the First Christian Church of Quincy, Ill., visited the Culver-Stockton campus and spent some time in our archives. The curator talked to women briefly and showed Campbell Home slides. During the summer, Gilbert Weidman, minister of the church, and several women investigated our archives for information about the Quincy church.

Frances M. Arant, Inglewood, Calif., sent the original minute book of the Southern California Christian Convention, 1st, 1881 to 6th 1886, (written by J. Carroll Kendrick) and 1903, 1904, 1906-1909.

Mrs. Bertie Bannister of the Fowler Home, Dallas, Texas, sent through Richard L. James, photographs of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim D. Moore. Mr. Moore was one of the pioneer preachers of Texas.

Dr. Judson Barclay, Grinell, Kans., sent several items among which were included: a daguerreotype of Decima and Virginia Campbell; Proceedings and Debates of the Virginia State Constitutional Convention, 1829-30 (Alexander Campbell, Jr.'s. copy); Thomas Campbell's snuff box; and volumes 1-4, 1852-1855 of the Ladies Christian Annual, inscribed "Mrs. Selina H. Campbell with compliments of James Challen and Sons' publishers."

From Julian Magarey Barclay, East Liverpool, Ohio, we have received much material as a memorial to his father and mother Julian Thomas and Mary Campbell Magarey Barclay. Included are photographs, letters, books, and manuscripts. There is a photograph of Clarinda Campbell with a note in Decima Campbell Barclay's handwriting that this photograph, made about 1846, is the only photograph ever made of any of Alexander Campbell's children by his first wife. Among the books are some in vellum bindings that were in the shipwreck in 1808 when the Campbell family first started to America. Another book is a Bible, printed in London, 1802, with James Turner Barclay's signature on the flyleaf.

Mrs. Grace Hall Barnhart, Wheeling, W. Va., sent copies made by Mary Campbell Magarey Barclay of a series of letters written by Alexander Campbell to his wife Selina, while he was attending the Virginia Constitutional Convention at Richmond, 1829-30. We are trying to trace present ownership of the letters. Mrs. Barnhart, who was hostess at the Campbell Home, 1937-1942, also sent a manuscript copy of Information on the Campbell Mansion, which she prepared descriptive of the home and its furnishings.

J. Francis Bellville, Elmira, N. Y., sent among other items the following: History of Churches of Christ in Wisconsin, a mimeographed booklet prepared by the Wisconsin Christian Missionary Association, 1934; Spayd- The Unknown Christ, book 2; Rains- Essentials to Christian Union; Miller- Unity in Effort The 2nd and 3rd Annual Reports of the Commission on Christian Union, 1912 and 1913; Perennial Songs by Showalter and Roberts; and Gems and Jewells by Fillmore and Rosecrans.

Mrs. Christine Berger, Wellsville, Ohio, sent photographs of her parents and grandparents, Bazileel Wells Chapman, Catharine Pritchard Chapman, Benjamin Pritchard and Mary Ann Pritchard; the autograph album of Catharine Pritchard (with autographs of William Baxter, W. A. Belding, Amos Sutton Hayden, Henry I. Bosworth, A. B. Green, and Alexander Campbell); Mary Ann Pritchard’s hymnbook (an 1847 ed. of the Campbell hymnal) and 4 tea spoons made from early silver dollars (used by the reformer ministers who visited the Pritchard home).

Mrs. Lon Bobo, San Gabriel, Calif., gave many books from her father’s (E. T. Nesbit) library. Among them were Johnson-Life of Trust (Evangelistic library); Elston- A Grandmother’s Reflections in Rhyme; Challen- Koinonia; Long- Circle of the Upper Room; Hartley- Sketch Book of the CWBM in California, North, 1888-1920; The Woodland Christian Church, 1854-1949; and Ames- Invisible Companions.

Mrs. Charles W. Brookbanks, Bellevue, Ky., sent through Robert Booth a copy of Campbell- The Christian Hymn Book, medium size type edition, 1867, with clasp covers. This book was owned by George W. Follett (Mrs. Brookbank’s father) a charter member of the first congregation in St. Louis.

G. C. Brewer, Memphis, Tenn., gave a copy of “Childhaven”, a Review of Brother Lewis’ Booklet and a study of “Institutionalism.”

Jack Buck, Lomax, Ill., gave a booklet promoting the Cantrell-Pecaut meetings, Christian Church, Lomax, Ill., June 1924.

Misses Alice and Jeannette Campbell, Los Angeles, Calif., gave many books and pamphlets, several of which were from Alexander Campbell’s library. Included was A Memorial Discourse On the Occasion of the Death of President Alexander Campbell by D. S. Burnet. (Baltimore, 1886, 23p.) and An Address on Alexander Campbell by Lathrop Cooley, 1866, (reprint ed., Cleveland, 1909, 20p.)

Robert M. Campbell, Santa Monica, Calif., gave various books from his library including Alexander Campbell’s copy of Lord- Review of J. B. Jeter’s Book Entitled “Campbellism Examined”; Why God Made the Devil by J. W. Tydall; Class Notes on Sacred History, volume 3, by J. W. McGarvey; A Sky Pilot at Santa Monica by C. M. Watson (mimeographed) a complete set of the Millennial Harbinger; and eight volumes of class notes made by Robert Campbell at college and seminary.

From the Campbell Home Committee we received a film strip What Mean These Stones?

LOCAL CHURCH PERIODICALS

During the past three months we have been placed on the mailing lists of these churches to receive their newspapers or orders of worship:

Fountain Square Church of Christ, Indianapolis, Ind., The Herald.

The Central Christian Church, Waterloo, Iowa, The Unifire.

Woodlawn Christian Church, Lake City, la., Woodlawn Christian News.

First Christian Church, Maysville, Ky., Orders of Worship.

Central Christian Church, Youngstown, Ohio Youngstown Christian.

First Christian Church, Rensselaer, Ind., First Christian Visitor.
Occasionally we have mentioned receiving copies of old and rare books which have been reprinted for present day distribution. Two groups among our Churches of Christ brethren have been especially active in this field for the last few years. They are the Harbinger Book Club, 932 Caldwell Lane, Nashville 4, Tennessee, and The Old Paths Book Club, 600 North Rossmore, Hollywood 4, Calif. Eugene S. Smith did some reprinting but sold his stock to the Old Paths Book Club.

During the past few months, we have received the following items from the above two clubs and others:

Campbell, Alexander

The College of the Bible deserves a vote of thanks from Disciples for the issuance of this early description of the Disciples by Alexander Campbell which was originally published in Fessenden & Co's Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Mr. Pierson, in his helpful introduction, is undoubtedly right in placing the date of the writing as 1833. However, he is wrong in thinking that Mr. Campbell made no mention of the book in the Millennial Harbinger for there is an endorsement of the book on page 576 of the December 1836 issue of the Harbinger. In a later number of the Harbinger (pp. 155-168, April 1839) the article was reprinted in its entirety, with the exception of the opening and closing paragraphs. We have an impression that in a still later Harbinger Mr. Campbell mentions the article again and claims authorship but we can't document this at the present.

An interesting problem is raised in regard to the first edition of the Fessenden book because in his review of the book in 1836 Mr. Campbell gives the date as 1833, but the preceding description including the number of pages is the same as for the printing that carried an 1835 copyright date. We are inclined to think that Mr. Campbell got his dates mixed!

Perhaps some one should reprint Robert Richardson's 12-page "History of the Disciples of Christ" which appeared in The History of All the Religious Denominations in the United States published by John Winebrenner in 1844, 2d ed. in 1848.

Campbell, Alexander and McCalla, W. L.

Campbell, Alexander, ed.

The Sacred Writings of the Apostles and Evangelists of Jesus Christ... (Cover title: The Living Oracles) Harbinger Book Club, 1951. Photo-litho-printed from the 3rd. Stereotyped ed. published by Franklin and Rice in 1870, a very excellent printing.

Milligan, Robert

The Great Commission of Jesus Christ to his Twelve Apostles.

The above two books were reprinted in one volume by the Old Paths Book Club, 1950. The McGarvey book was reprinted from the first ed. while the Milligan one is from the new and enlarged ed. of 1873 published by J. B. Morton & co.

Millennial Harbinger, Vols. 1 and 2, 1830 and 1831. Both the Harbinger Book Club and the Old Paths Book Club have distributed these, dated 1950 and 1951. We understand that Vol. 3, 1832 is nearly ready.

Swinney, Oram J. comp.

An announcement has been made that Earl West, 34 N. Layman Street, Indianapolis 19, Ind., proposes to reprint the 14 volumes of Barton Stone's Christian Messenger, 1826-1845. It is very important that he have our support in this project for Stone's periodical is exceedingly scarce; there is not a complete file in any one place. A reprint of the Christian Messenger at a reasonable price, will have untold value for our libraries and research workers. All those interested should write to Mr. West immediately.

WHEN YOU MOVE

Every time we mail an issue of DISCIPLIANA, a dozen or more copies are returned to us because the addressee has moved. Second class material is not forwarded and consequently we must pay postage for its return. A new address is usually written on the return form and we can then send the copy to the correct place, which again costs additional postage. But sometimes we receive copies back with “Re-moved-Left No Address” marked on form 3579. Then we have to start a search to find where our member moved.

You can insure the receipt of every issue of DISCIPLIANA by sending a change of address card (get it at your post office) giving your old address as well as your new location. At the same time you will be saving the society time, money and peace of mind.

OUR NEW POSTER

We have recently had printed, in two colors, a modest (size 8 1/2 x 11) poster to be used on church bulletin boards. The poster calls attention to the work of the society and offers membership for a dollar through the remainder of 1951 and all of 1952. Thus a new member will receive five issues of DISCIPLIANA instead of four.

About 500 ministers are being sent these posters with the request that they be placed on the bulletin board. We are also suggesting that some person from the congregation be asked to represent the society in securing members and materials. There is a space on the poster for our agent’s name and address.

Volunteers are wanted from among our members to represent us in their churches. Write us for posters, promotional material, and application blanks. Your help is needed now!

NEW PROMOTIONAL FOLDER

As a member of the Council of Agencies we were notified early last summer that agencies would not be allowed to distribute promotional material at the Area Conventions this fall. After the first of September, we received notice that one piece of material could be distributed. Hurriedly an eight page folder was prepared describing the society as a special service agency with sections on “The Services We Offer”, “Our Long Range Program,” “Our Needs,” and “The Story of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society”. We shall be happy to send copies on request.

THESES

John W. Neth, Madison, Ind., sent a copy of his School of Religion, Butler University B. D. thesis, 1951 “An Introduction to George Forrester.”

THE CAMPBELL FAMILY BIBLE

Several persons have made inquiry concerning the Campbell family Bible that was mentioned by Mr. Harman in his "The Campbell Home" column in the July DISCIPLIANA. They have wanted to know what edition of the Bible Mr. Campbell used in his home and for the keeping of family records.

The Bible, now back in the home through the kindness of Glen Mall of Great Falls, Mont., is a "Collins Bible," with a Boston imprint dated 1828. It is a sterotyped printing of a Bible first printed in Trenton, New Jersey in 1791, with revised editions in 1807 and 1814.

Isaac Collins, a Quaker, had the endorsement of the Presbyterian General Assembly, the Protestant Episcopal Convention, and the Baptist association in addition to that of the Quakers. An address "To the Reader" was printed in the Bible instead of the usual dedication to be found in the King James version.

According to Sims' The Bible in America, there were few printer's mistakes in this book, for committees were appointed to read proof and Collin's children read the proofs eleven times! Supposedly only two errors, a broken letter and a wrong punctation mark, were found after publication.

NEWS NOTES

The Peoria Christian, Central Christian Church, Peoria, Ill., for November 9, 1951, had a good front page story about DCHS digested from our current promotional folder. Luke X, 37.

There seems to be a revival of the early twentieth century practice of women's church groups gathering favorite recipes and publishing them in cookbooks under the church imprint. We have several of the older ones but none of the newer publications. Groups that have compiled such boks are requested to send a copy to DCHS. We are planning a story about these boks under the title of "What's Cookin'."

Vincee Mushrush Paxton, former UCMS missionary to China, helped her husband, J. Hall Paxton, prepare "Flight from China" for U.S. Camera, June and July 1951. The article was illustrated with photographs made by Mr. Paxton. We received these issues from Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Moseley, Indianapolis, Ind.

January 1, 1952 is nearly here—and membership fees are due again. Why not send that check for 1952 now and save us secretarial expense and postage money before we mail notices?

The Historical Foundation News of the Historical Foundation of the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches, Inc., Montreat, N. C., for April 1951 was a special silver anniversary issue.

The New Yorker, February 3 and 10, 1951, under the title "Profiles—Grips and Taxes", had a two part story of the life of Vivien Kellems. We need these two issues.

Headquarters for DCHS during the International Convention Assembly in Chicago, May 19-23, 1952, will be the LaSalle Hotel.

The Executive Committee of DCHS met in Fort Wayne, Ind., August 13, 1951, at the Lincoln National Life Foundation. Hensley, Warren, Shaw, Spencer and Harman were present.

We are listing here those who have paid either all or part of a sustaining membership for 1951.

University Christian Church, Fort Worth, Texas
School of Religion, Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind.
Forrest F. Reed, Nashville, Tenn.

As additional sustaining membership pledges are paid, we shall list the names in DISCIPLIANA. There should be a much larger list in the next issue as 1951 pledges are due by January 1, 1952.

AREA ASSEMBLY AREA NO. 1?

That the series of area assemblies just completed were not the first ones held by Disciples is evidenced by the following notice, signed by Isaac Errett, which appeared in The Millennial Harbinger for March 1859, page 174:

"In compliance with a resolution offered by E. D. Pittman, of St. Louis, and passed at the last anniversary of the A. C. M. S., the Executive Board have appointed a special meeting of the Society to be held in the city of St. Louis, Mo., commencing on the First Tuesday in May, 1859, at 2 o'clock, p. m., to continue three days.

As the object of this Meeting is to accommodate and interest a large portion of our Brotherhood in the West and South West, who do not attend the Cincinnati meetings, it is hoped that the brethren in those regions of country which furnish easy access to St. Louis, by steamboat or railway, will attend in large numbers."

Probably this was the first regional meeting held under the auspices of a national brotherhood organization. Benjamin Franklin said in reporting the meeting for the American Christian Review (later reprinted in The Millennial Harbinger, July 1859, pp. 331-394) "They came pouring in from all parts, and, we think, the attendance was as large as at any meeting we have ever had, with probably the exception of the general convention some ten years ago."

Mr. Franklin further commented: "The great body of the brotherhood are one—of the same mind and of the same judgment—and no divisions among them. They are sound in faith, sound at heart, and were never better satisfied with their great mission—that their work is of God—and were never more determined in carrying it forward than now. It is true, there are a few croakers among us, who are not really one of us, and some of these were present, making some slight effort to enlighten us, but they received no attention . . . .

In all our meetings of this sort, we hear much about plans for raising funds for benevolent objects. But we have long been convinced that the trouble is not in the lack of plans. The matter wanting is a willing mind."

NEW REPRINT

The Jerusalem Mission, compiled by D. S. Burnet and published by the American Christian Publication Society in 1838 is now being printed on microcards for distribution by DCHS. Only five sets of a limited edition of fifteen sets remain unsold. Price $1.50. Delivery will be made before January 1.
The Disciples of Christ Historical Society was organized May 5, 1941, at St. Louis, Missouri, and received the approval of the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ which was then in session. The Society is custodian of International Convention and World Convention archives by official action of those conventions.

The purpose of the Society is to maintain and further the interest of the Disciples of Christ (sometimes known as Christian Church or Church of Christ) in its religious heritage, backgrounds, origins, and development.

Membership is open to any individual, institution or organization that is in accord with the purpose of the Society.

In 1946 the Society secured as a gift from Culver-Stockton College, the valuable Henry Barton Robison Collection of Literature Relating to the Disciples of Christ which contains thousands of books, periodicals, pamphlets, manuscripts and illustrative materials dealing with the religious groups which grew out of the Restoration movement fostered by Abner Jones, Elias Smith, James O'Kelley, Barton W. Stone, Thomas and Alexander Campbell, Walter Scott, and other reformers of the early 19th century in America. The collection is being used as a nucleus for a comprehensive research library.

The Society which became incorporated in the State of Missouri in 1946 maintains its headquarters in the Johann Memorial Library, Culver-Stockton College, Canton, Missouri where authors and publishers are asked to send copies of all new publications. Churches are requested to place the Society on their mailing lists to receive orders of worship, papers, reports, yearbooks and other printed records. Gifts and bequests from individuals are especially welcome.

The Society and Bethany College share joint responsibility, through the Campbell Home Committee, for the restoration, preservation, and management of the Alexander Campbell mansion at Bethany, West Virginia.

Classes of membership are as follows:

- Individual member, per calendar year $1.00.
- Individual founding member, $1.00 per year from 1941.
- Individual life member, one payment $25.00.
- Institutional member, per calendar year $15.00.
- Sustaining member, per calendar year $100.00.
- Local church member, per calendar year $12.00.

Institutional membership is offered to educational institutions and other organizations including state boards and national agencies.

Local churches should take advantage of the opportunity to share in the work of the Society by becoming members. The local church dues include individual memberships for the minister and one layman.

Publications of the Society are:

- Theses Concerning the Disciples of Christ, 1941. Out of print.
- Periodicals of the Disciples of Christ and Related Religious Groups, 1943. $1.00.
- An Author Catalog of Disciples of Christ and Related Religious Groups, 1946. $7.50 ($6.00 to members.)
