DCHS Moves
To Nashville First Week in April

By the time our members have received this issue of Discipliana, the Society will have moved its library and archives to Nashville, Tennessee, and will have set up the headquarters in the Joint Universities Library Building. The move is scheduled for April 1.

When the announcement of our move was made in the last issue of Discipliana, it was thought that we would not move until late May. However, since the Joint Universities Library could be ready for us before that time and a house would be available for the Curator by April 1, it was decided to move then.

At first Mr. Spencer, the curator, will be the only staff member at Nashville. Miss Buder, secretarial assistant, will not leave Canton until June 1 and Mr. Harman, national director of the Campbell Home Campaign until its conclusion later in the year.

As this is being written, we are in the midst of packing books and periodicals in cardboard cartons ready for the truck that will haul our holdings, including our filing cases, desks, and other equipment.

All letters should be sent to our new address:
Disciples of Christ Historical Society
Joint Universities Library.
Nashville 4, Tennessee.

Personal mail for the curator should be sent to him at 4706 Elkins Avenue, Nashville 9, Tennessee, his residence.

Because the curator has been engaged in getting ready for the move to Nashville, has attended several meetings in Indianapolis, and has helped Henry Shaw prepare an index for his forthcoming Buckeye Disciples, all during the time allotted for writing copy for Discipliana, he has decided to hold this issue to 12 pages. Thus, many news items and other material have been left over until the next issue.

Largest Gift Received
Miss Cora Harris Makes Outstanding Gift

On January 12, the Society received a gift of material from Miss Cora Harris, Macomb, Illinois, that contained more books, periodicals, pamphlets, letters, pictures, and museum pieces than any other gift received up to this time. Mr. Spencer and Miss Buder brought back a car load that day and will return soon for additional items.

So far, 3,926 pieces have been listed. This includes 3,198 single issues of periodicals, 87 books, 458 pamphlets, 76 miscellaneous items. Long runs of the Christian Evangelist, the Christian Standard, and Missionary Tidings replace files of those periodicals that are in the Robinson Collection which will be left at Culver-Stockton when we move. There are several hundred letters yet to be listed in addition to other materials.

Much of the material secured from Miss Harris had been saved by her mother. A few books were from her father's library. A lot came from her uncle, A. J. Thomson, minister and educator, who was a professor at Abingdon, Hiram and Garfield Colleges, and had charge of the Louisville Christian Bible School (for Negroes) for several years. (There are catalogs of this school, 1892-1907) Because he was interested in Negro education, he saved many issues of the Gospel Plea. We added 246 numbers to our file of that magazine.

A fine museum piece is a large framed black bordered memorial to James A. Garfield, printed by the Buffalo Express, September 20, 1881. A long wanted badge of the General Convention, Buffalo, 1906, is another museum item. Several books and pamphlets unlisted in the Author Catalog are in the gift. Aylett Rains' Christ's Church Identified, 1859, is one such item.

AGENTs WANTED!

Since we are moving into full-time operation with a staff of three people, we will be in a position to receive and process much more material than in the past. It is impossible for us to visit every community and every church hunting for all the items needed to make our archives and library the center for research that we desire it to be.

Our members can help us. We want an agent in every church to look after our interests. Last fall we circularized the ministers of some churches, asking that the names of historically minded people be suggested to us. The response was not large but we did secure some agents in that way. Now we are asking our members to volunteer.

Here are some of the things that we have suggested our representatives can do for the society:

1. Undoubtedly you know individuals historically minded who would like the opportunity to become members of the society. These persons can be approached by you personally with an invitation to membership. We want to reach people who are interested in the preservation and use of our brotherhood historical materials.

2. As our representative, we want you to see that all printed and mimeographed materials from your church are sent to us. This, of course, includes church papers, orders of worship, annual and special reports, women's and men's fellowship programs, pastoral letters, special.write programs, and printed and manuscript histories. Post card views and photographs of the church and its various activities are wanted.

3. Also wanted are newspaper clippings concerning the church and any of its members. These clippings should be plainly marked with the name of the newspaper, and the place and date of publication.

4. Perhaps some of the members of your church have written books or pamphlets that have been published. Generally, authors are pleased to contribute a copy of each of their writings, if requested to do so.

5. Among the members of our older churches there are often families who have lived many years in the community and have saved books, periodicals, pictures, pamphlets and odds and ends of historical material that may be valuable for our work. Those families should be contacted for the society.

6. If the society can be of service to your church, write us. With the gradual realization of our expansion program, the Society will be able to give increasing service to individuals and churches.

A STARTLING PROPOSAL!

In 1846 a circular was distributed, evidently by some one connected with the American Christian Bible Society, advocating that all the periodicals then being published by individual Disciples be discontinued and a weekly and three monthly publications be started to take the place of the suspended papers. The author of the plan proposed to bring the principal editors to Cincinnati where the new periodicals would be published.

W. K. Pendleton satirically criticized the proposal in the Millennial Harbinger, 1846, p. 265-271. Later, Alexander Campbell, under the heading "Mysterious Circular," had this to say: "From an authentic source we learn that at a late meeting of the Bible Society at Cincinnati, the "mysterious circular," noticed in a former page, was publicly disclaimed by the Society; one of its agents having, without the authority of the Society, taken upon himself the responsibility of the project."

We need this circular together with the minutes of the meeting of the American Christian Bible Society, April 28, 1846.

Buckeye Disciples is the title of a new book, now in press, that will probably be issued in time for sale at the International Convention. It is the nearly 500 page story of the church in Ohio, its beginnings, development and growth, with special emphasis on the work of the Ohio Christian Missionary Society during the past hundred years.

Author Henry K. Shaw, minister at Elyria, Ohio, and member of the Executive Committee of the Society, has spent nearly ten years in research for the book. The work will be of interest to all Disciples (not only in Ohio) because of the relationship of Ohio to our movement. The Mahoning Association churches were Ohio churches. The American Christian Bible Society, The American Christian Missionary Society, and the American Christian Publication Society and the Foreign Christian Missionary Society were located in Cincinnati, and in their beginnings were largely Ohio in origin. Brotherhood leaders were Ohio men. Four of Campbell's debates were held in Ohio.

WILLIAM FREDERICK MILTON ARNY

Editorial Note: Boyd B. Stutler, managing editor of the American Legion Magazine and an active collector of West Virginia imprints, has long been interested in John Brown and thus indirectly in Arny and Campbell and their relationship to Brown. The photograph of Arny reproduced on the next page is from Mr. Stutler's collection.

William Frederick Milton Arny was one of the pioneers in the Campbell reform movement and in the organization of Bethany College. For 18 years he was the one who stood closest to Alexander Campbell as his clerk, confidential secretary and man of affairs. Yet this long service has been to a very great extent buried in the records, and when Arny's name does occur in historical writings, it is usually in relation to his later activities in Illinois, in Kansas, or in New Mexico.

Born at Georgetown, District of Columbia, on May 9, 1813, he received his education in the schools of his native town. In 1832, at the age of 19, he moved to Bethany, then in Virginia, to become associated with Alexander Campbell as a clerk. But he was promoted rapidly both in the extensive Campbell business organization and in the Church as his wealth of native talent and organizational ability developed. Bishop Campbell was required to be absent from Bethany for months at a time, and during these absences Arny took over as business manager and active director of the various enterprises.

Thus, practically all of the Millennial Harbinger fell on his shoulders. In the Harbinger for May, 1836, in announcing a contemplated tour, Campbell said that "Brother Arny, as heretofore, attends to all business concerns." Frequent references to Arny in that publication attest his position in the organizational scheme. In addition he served in the field at district meetings, and in promoting the affairs of the Church and Bethany College in areas as far west as Missouri.

When the Board of Trustees of Bethany College met in their session on May 10, 1840, Arny was elected Secretary, and he held that position until the meeting held on May 11, 1850. For a few years he also served the College as its General Agent, receiving and rceipting for subscriptions to and payments of College Funds.

It is probable that the Hall-Campbell-Arny controversy of 1848, when he was charged with furnishing "inaccurate and irresponsible" information to Campbell for a critical review of Hall's Christian Register, led directly to his separation from official connection with the Church, and with Campbell's business affairs. Fully aired in the Harbinger in 1848 and 1849, the charges against Arny were reviewed on November 11, 1849, by the Bethany Church, which had once cleared him. The former action was reversed as a result of this review; Arny was denied the right to act as a minister, was required to acknowledge his guilt and to make apology to Campbell and the Church. His contract with Campbell expired on February 1, 1850, and in that same year he removed to Bloomington, Illinois.

It was while at Bethany that Arny first became associated with John Brown of Osawatomie and Harper's Ferry, then an Ohio farmer dealing extensively in sheep and wool. Brown, an intimate of Bishop Campbell, was for years Campbell's agent in disposing of the clip of wool from the large flock of sheep kept on the Bethany farms (in 1847 Brown disposed of this clip for $1,495.57); later in Kansas, Arny again had personal and official contact with Brown—Arny as agent for the National Kansas Committee, and Brown a guerilla leader. And still later, after the raid at Harper's Ferry, Arny was called to Washington to appear before Senator Mason's Harper's Ferry Investigating Committee, to tell in detail just what he knew of Brown and his plans.

At Bloomington, Illinois, Arny established a manual training school at Normal, adjoining the city; was one of the organizers of the State Teachers' Institute; edited The Teacher; associate editor of The Prairie Farmer; was a leader in better farming movements and societies; and with Jesse W. Fell, Lincoln's close friend, opened a town lot development. Politically he was active in the organization of the Republican party, and that, aided by Fell, Leonard Swett and others of the Lincoln group, led to his most active public career.

On May 29, 1856, Lincoln delivered his noted "lost speech" at a Republican convention held at Bloomington—he swept the convention so completely that no notes were taken of his words. Apparently Lincoln, a conservative, took an advanced position on the anti-slavery issues and "bleeding Kansas" in particular. Arny was present, so was Governor Andrew Reeder, late of Kansas, but then... show that he handled some 9,000,000 pounds of relief goods for Kansas settlers, in addition to cash grants made to many who had been burned out by raiders, or who had suffered from drought and the grasshopper plague of 1857. He found time to promote a railroad in southeastern Kansas, and again to get into politics. He was a member of the famous Grasshopper Falls Convention in 1857; the Constitutional Convention of 1858, and the First State Legislature, which assembled with the outbreak of the Civil War.

on a tour of the east to tell the world the trials and troubles of the Free State settlers in that disputed territory, and to enlist the sympathetic aid of the people of the east and north. Lincoln's speech probably led Reeder and his friends to think that Lincoln was now ready to join the radical element. At any rate the speech had its repercussion at Buffalo, New York, on July 10 when a group of partisans of Free State Kansas, Reeder among them, met to organize the National Kansas Committee for the purpose of encouraging emigration to Kansas, to raise funds for the needy, and incidentally to provide arms for their defense.

Abraham Lincoln was named as the member of the Committee from Illinois, though he was not present. He declined the appointment—Army was named in his stead, and in addition was appointed General agent to oversee the work of the Committee in Kansas. His first tour of inspection was made in October, 1856, and the following spring he settled at Hyatt, Anderson County. His reports showed that he was a capable and efficient agent, and he was reappointed for another term in 1857.

Again his Bloomington associations paid off—President Lincoln appointed him Indian Agent for New Mexico in 1862, and a little later promoted him to the office of Territorial Secretary. In this position he served as Acting Governor of New Mexico for intervals when the governor was absent covering a considerable period of time. At the end of his term as Secretary he was again appointed Indian Agent, stationed at Fort Defiance with oversight of the Navajos.
ACCESSIONS

Under this heading we have listed all gifts, purchases, and exchanges not mentioned elsewhere in DISCIPLIANA. During 1951 material was contributed by 215 individuals, 35 churches, 14 organizations, and 8 colleges. This does not include 301 different periodicals regularly received. Of the individuals who contributed, 111 were members of the society. Geographically, those were located as follows:

- California: 27
- Texas: 22
- Missouri: 20
- Indiana: 18
- Tennessee: 14
- Pennsylvania and Illinois: 13
- Ohio: 10
- Iowa: 9
- Kansas and Kentucky: 7
- Washington, Oregon, Virginia: 5

New Mexico, Arkansas, West Virginia, Georgia, New York, Florida, Mississippi, Michigan, New Jersey, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Alabama, North Carolina, Arizona, Montana, South Carolina, Colorado, Maryland, Connecticut, Canada, and the District of Columbia gave less than 5 each.

The 301 periodicals may be roughly classified as follows:

- Local church: 96
- Miscellaneous: 60
- College: 44
- State and Regional: 38
- National: 20
- Sunday School: 16
- Denominational and interdenominational: 15
- Foreign: 12

From October 15, 1951 to February 22, 1952, the following items have been received:

Gift Receipt Forms

Since the first of January, every person who has given material to the society has received a pink acknowledgement slip. These are made in duplicate as soon as the gift arrives; the original is filed in our records, and the carbon copy is sent to the donor.

From January 1 to February 26, eighty-six acknowledgement slips have been mailed to fifty-eight individuals, churches or organizations. The donors live in twenty-eight states and Canada.

Convention Notes
The Hotel LaSalle has been designated as headquarters for the Society during the International Convention at Chicago, May 12-17.

The annual business meeting of the Society will be held immediately following the panel discussion on Baptist Disciple Relationships Historically Traced, Monday afternoon, May 12. Exact time, place, and personnel of the discussion will be announced later to our membership, either by letter or by postal card.

Notice will be sent to members of the Board of Directors concerning the two board meetings to be held during the convention.
ABOUT THE DISCIPLES OF CHRIST HISTORICAL SOCIETY

A new write up concerning the society will appear in the next issue.

Some periodicals not in Periodicals of the Disciples of Christ are: United Society News (not to be confused with a periodical of that title issued in 1925); The Standard Digest; World Wide Witness; and The Johnson Boy (a publication for Johnson Bible College alumni).

For several issues to come we will be listing rare and unusual materials from this gift. Space does not permit even their mention in this number.

WILLIAM ARNY

and served there until 1873. He was active in affairs in New Mexico until his death.

On April 14, 1836, Arny was married to Miss Selina B. Craft at Bethany, the ceremony being performed by Bishop Campbell. Of their three children, only one, William E., was living at the time of the death of the father. Arny died at Topeka, Kansas, on September 18, 1881, while returning to his home from a trip to the east. He is buried at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

QUOTATIONS

Still Untried?

"I know, indeed, that some two or three meeting-houses have got in them baptistries; but they are private property, and even these are not of proper construction. Why could not all those who believe in one immersion, unite in erecting one convenient house for this purpose, with suitable rooms and preparation for dressing? Would it be unbecoming then to co-operate thus far, or to have so much fellowship with another, as to go to the same element in the same place? Nothing of this sort has yet been attempted; and a superstitious notion that the immerser must himself always accompany the immersed into the water . . . —prevents the erection of proper baths even where it was not thought sinful to depart from a river. Baths might be constructed with perfect adaptation to the convenience of both the immerser and the immersed, in which the ordinance might be observed without the immersion of more than the hands of the immerser."

So wrote Alexander Campbell in a letter from Philadelphia, December 16, 1833.

HARMAN RESIGNS
To go to Miami

The Executive Committee announces that Mr. W. P. Harman has resigned from the staff of the Society, effective September 30, to accept the position of Executive Secretary of the Greater Miami Council of Churches.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee held in Atlanta, Georgia, on August 25, the following resolution was adopted:

RESOLVED: That we accept with reluctance and great regret the resignation of Mr. W. P. Harman from the staff of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society; and, that we express to Mr. and Mrs. Harman our appreciation for their distinguished service as volunteers from the very beginning of this organization, of which Mr. Harman is one of the founders, and that we place on record our gratitude for his leadership as National Director in charge of Public Relations since January 1, 1951; and, that we express our appreciation and admiration for his work as director of the Campbell Home Campaign and as Executive Secretary of the Campbell Home Committee, and for the foundation he has laid for the general work of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society; and, that we had looked forward to working many years with him as General Representative of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society, and we are confident that his work would have been most successful; and, that we express our hope that Mr. and Mrs. Harman will enjoy their work in Miami, and we rejoice with them in their new opportunities for great service in that city.

SHANKS GIFT
Rare books received

Just before moving, we secured from Mr. and Mrs. Rees Shanks of Canton, Mo., 83 items, most of which we had long been wanting. The older material was from the library of Elder John Shanks, an early pioneer preacher of Lewis County. Other books and pamphlets were from the library of Madison C. Hawkins, and some things had been saved by Mr. and Mrs. Shanks.

The following is a partial listing: Know Thy Self, 1887, by T. F. Campbell; The Gospel and Its Elements, 1857, by James Challen; The Christian Hymnal, 1873; A Book of Gems, 1879, by Benjamin Franklin; Speeches and Lectures, 1874, by M. C. Hawkins; The Christian Psalmist, 1854, by Leonard and Fillmore; The Moberly Pulpit, 1881, by J. C. Reynolds; Biographical Sketch and Writings of Elder Benjamin Franklin, vol. 1, 1880; Sparkling Jewels, 1871, by Knowles Shaw, and three volumes from the Sunday School Library series: The Chinese, Their Customs and History; Narrative of the American Mission to Jerusalem; and The True Method of Searching the Scriptures.

The unbound periodicals include issues of The Independent Monthly, 1870; The Ladies Christian Annual, 1851-1852; The American Housewife, 1872; The Christian Standard, 1874; and these Christian University periodicals: The Christian University Extensor, 1896; The Union Literary Magazine, 1868-1873; and The Christian University Record.

Among the pamphlets were: Rossell-The (Continued on page 18)
A BELIEVE IT OR NOT COINCIDENCE

For forty-five years two prominent Disciple ministers, Frederick W. Burnham and Finis Idleman, carried on a regular correspondence. Mr. Burnham saved Mr. Idleman's original letters and copies of his replies. The Society has just received these letters for its archives. The manner in which the letters finally reached the Society is a curious and amazing tale.

Two years ago Mr. Burnham sent the correspondence to Mr. Hillis Idleman with the notation that perhaps it should eventually go to the Historical Society. This spring Mr. Idleman packed it up and mailed it to the Society without an accompanying letter. The package did not reach the Society for quite a while. That it did get to its destination is a believe-it-or-not story with a remarkable coincidence.

At Louisville, Kentucky, some packages had their address labels torn off. The package intended for the Society had another address label put on it from another package, and was delivered to a Mr. Robinson of Waterloo, Iowa. The amazing thing was that Mr. Robinson's name was Finis and that he had been given that name by his parents when they were members of Central Christian Church of Des Moines, Iowa, while Finis Idleman was pastor. Instead of discarding the package or returning it to the post office, Mr. Robinson, having recognized its historical value, started out to locate its intended destination. His only lead was reference to the Society in Mr. Burnham's letters to Hillis Idleman, which was enclosed in the package.

A letter from Mr. Robinson to the Society brought the answer that, so far as the Curator knew, the package had not been mailed to him, but that he would be very happy to have the correspondence. A letter to Mr. Burnham brought the reply that the package had been addressed to the Society, and that the letters should be sent there. Mr. Robinson immediately forwarded them to us at our new location in Nashville.

TAX FREE EXEMPTION

The Society was notified on September 9 by the U. S. Treasury Department that it is officially approved as a tax free religious and educational organization. Gifts of money, property, stocks or bonds, whether by direct gifts or by bequests, may be deducted by the donors or trustees of estates in computing Federal Income Tax.
TO THE NASHVILLE COMMITTEE

By resolution of the Board of Directors of the Society, President Ronald E. Osborn has written the following letter of appreciation to the Nashville Committee that made possible the partial fulfillment of our long range program:

Dear friends:

As president of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society, I find unusual pleasure in communicating to you the gratitude of the Society for all that you have done in connection with our removal to Nashville.

Your magnificent and generous offer to the Society is heartening to all who are concerned in these days for the sustaining of our cultural life and scholarly interests. The funds already turned over to the Society have made possible a program of new vigor and significance. The cordiality of the people of Nashville has created a most happy situation for our staff. We look forward to a most pleasant relationship with you and with the city in the years ahead.

At its first meeting since our removal to Nashville our Board of Directors joined unanimously in asking me to convey to you this expression of our deep appreciation. It is an honor to speak thus for them and to add my own personal word of gratitude.

Sincerely,
Ronald E. Osborn.

MEMBERS VIA NASHVILLE COMMITTEE

The Executive Committee of the Society voted May 23 that contributors to the Nashville committee fund would be made members of the Society, the class of membership to depend upon the amount of the contribution. CORA HARRIS AGAIN

Early in the summer we again received from Miss Cora Harris of Macomb, Ill., several boxes of material. To date we have listed 421 items, with many more to go. There are 44 books, 153 periodicals (not including a set of World Call); 193 pamphlets, 1 picture, and 31 other pieces.

Some of the more rare items are: Bastian—Babylon Within Jehovah's Monarchy, no. 2, 1866; Belshé—An Address on Sanctification, 1867; Hartzell—A Dissertation on the First and Abrahamic Covenants, 1865; Hartzell—The Kingdom of Heaven, 1868; Hoshour—Observations and Notes by the Way of Things East of the Mountains, 1867; Lard—Do the Holy Scriptures Teach the Endlessness of Future Punishment?, 1879; Scott—The Union of Christians, 1852; and Mathes—Letters to Thomas A. Morris, 1861.

Some very interesting pamphlets are: Basic Principles of the Church of Christ, 1889; published by the Board of Publication of the Church of Christ, Topeka, Kans., A Statement Concerning the Second Church of Christ and A Reply to a Pamphlet Published by the Elders of the Main Street Church of Christ, 1871; Lexington, Ky., and The Contrast Fairly Stated, a review of Rice's Campbellism by Benjamin Franklin.

There are catalogs from: Southern Christian Institute, 1898, 1901, 1906, 1907; Virginia Christian College, 1905; Kentucky University, 1905; Garfield University, 1887-1888; Johnson Bible College, 1922; Eugene Divinity School, 1906, 1907; and American University, 1904, 1905.

A most appreciated periodical was vol. 1, no. 1, July, of The Christian Union Library, ed. by Peter Ainslie.

As promised in the last issue of DISCIPLIANA, there will be several stories concerning items received from Miss Harris in future numbers.

a Disciple representative at the Lund Conference, was attended by Chester P. Hensley of Bloomington, Illinois, Vice-President; Miss Eva Jean Wrather of Nashville, Tennessee, Treasurer; Dr. William G. West of Chattanooga, Tennessee, Secretary; Dr. Robert W. Burns of Atlanta, Georgia; and Claude E. Spencer, Curator.

In addition to the customary business of the Executive Committee, plans were made at the Atlanta meeting looking toward the calling of a new General Representative on the Staff; and until Mr. Harman's successor is named, his work will be carried by the Curator and the members of the Executive Committee.

STANDARD CATALOG FOR '92

One very interesting and instructive item secured from Miss Cora B. Harris of Macomb, Ill., is a copy of The Complete Catalogue of the Publications of the Disciples of Christ, with portraits and illustrations, published and for sale by the Standard Publishing Co., Cincinnati, Ohio. Although the catalog is undated, internal evidence shows that it probably was published in 1892.

Upon checking the various lists of books and tracts we discovered several new book titles, together with twenty-six tract titles not in An Author Catalog of Disciples of Christ and Related Religious Groups. Two of the books are listed as being "in preparation."

One book, in preparation, a revised edition of the Campbell-Rice debate with annotations by J. B. Briney, is listed with prices given for three different styles of binding. Does anyone know whether this was ever printed?

The other book in preparation is Origin, Aims, and Progress of the Disciples by B. B. Tyler. This is probably a premature announcement of Tyler's A History of the Disciples of Christ, that was published in 1894 by the Christian Literature Co., as vol. 12 of the American Church History Series. It was published also as a separate volume that year.

Annie Nelles is listed as a Disciple author, with National Reform; or Liquor and Its Consequences, the one title mentioned. The Catalog of Printed Cards of the Library of Congress has several books by Annie Nelles. The card for National Reform shows that one edition was "published by the author" in St. Louis, 1891. Was this printed by the Christian Publishing Co.? The Library of Congress complete author entry for Mrs. Nelles is Dumond, Annie (Hamilton) Nelles, 1837—. Who can place Mrs. Nelles as an authentic Disciple?

BAPTIST-DISCIPLE RELATIONS

An interesting workshop period during the International Convention in Chicago, May 19, was a discussion of Baptist-Disciple Relations Historically Traced, conducted by Henry K. Shaw, Minister of the Washington Avenue Church of Christ, Elyria, Ohio, and Thomas E. Pletcher, Minister of the First Christian Church, New Castle, Pennsylvania, with Alfred T. DeGroot, Dean of the Graduate School of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, Texas, as leader of the panel, with audience participation.

This discussion was sponsored by the Society and immediately preceded the annual business meeting which was held in the Hotel Sherman.
A DREAM REALIZED? I

No one imagined in 1941 when the Society was organized that by 1952 we would be operating on a full-time basis with a library, archives and museum material of fairly respectable proportions and with a staff of three people. In 1946 when Culver-Stockton College was designated as temporary headquarters, no one could know that by 1952 we would have designated Nashville as the place for our permanent location. When our long range program was projected in 1950 we hoped to achieve the status of an agency giving full-time service to the brotherhood by 1957.

These years since our founding there has been a feeling of urgency that we must devote all our efforts toward a real program of service to individuals, churches, institutions, and organizations. There was a sense of the swift passing of time—time that should not be wasted. Time that would not return. Time itself is a destroyer of materials that needed to be located, secured, and preserved.

That long dreamed for opportunity for service is here now. We are devoting our full time to do the things that we think are necessary for the collection, preservation and use of the stuff from which history is written. A dream is being realized, thanks to the Nashville planning committee which made all this possible.

But two major items must be started and completed before our dream is finally realized. Simultaneously, we must carry on a program of securing an increasing income for operational expense and a fund for erecting our own building. This must be done within the next five years.

The Nashville committee by its subsidy of $20,000 in 1952, $15,000 in 1953, $10,000 in 1954, and $5,000 each in 1955 and 1956, has challenged us to the full realization of our dream. They believe that we can get the job done. We believe in ourselves and in our ability to serve. The officers of this Society cannot alone achieve this realization. Our membership must help in many ways.

Ours is a venture in faith—faith in ourselves, our work, our members, and in all the individual churches, organizations and institutions that form our brotherhood.

WHY LATE?

Preparation of copy for this issue of DISCIPLIANA was started early in July, and we fully expected to have the periodical in the mails by August 1st. Because of some things beyond the editor’s control publication date had to be extended from time to time. Then, too, all the added work due to our moving and getting into a full-time operational routine caused further delay.

As we write this, September 10, we hope that you will receive this issue by October 1. And we expect to be back on schedule, probably not with the October issue, but with the January number. By on schedule, we mean that you should receive DISCIPLIANA the same month that it is dated.
OFFICERS FOR 1952-53
The following officers were elected at the Board of Directors meeting in Chicago, May 19:
Ronald Osburn, President
Chester P. Hensley, Vice-President
William G. West, Secretary
Miss Eva Jean Wrather, Treasurer
These officers, together with Robert W. Burns, constitute the Executive Committee. The Curator and General Representative are ex-officio members.

CHANGE IN PLANS
Following our various meetings in Chicago, public announcement was made that a formal opening of the archives and headquarters would be held October 10. Various factors caused the date to be postponed until in November, and finally at the Executive Committee meeting in Atlanta, August 25, the decision was made to wait until April when a celebration will be held observing the completion of our first year in Nashville.

NEW BOARD MEMBERS
Nine new persons were elected to the Board of Directors at the Society’s annual meeting in Chicago, May 19. According to the newly revised Constitution, there are now thirty members on the Board instead of twenty-seven as provided in the revision of 1946.

The following constitutes the Board. New members are indicated by *

Term Expiring 1953
*Spencer P. Austin, Executive Secretary, Department of Resources, United Christian Missionary Society, Indianapolis, Indiana.
Enos E. Dowling, Minister, Trader’s Point Christian Church, New Augusta, Indiana.
Ross J. Griffith, President, Northwest Christian College, Eugene, Oregon.
Colby D. Hall, Dean Emeritus, Brite College of the Bible, Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, Texas.
Chester P. Hensley, State Secretary, Illinois Christian Missionary Society, Bloomington, Illinois.
Raymond McCallister, Minister, Webster Groves Christian Church, Webster Groves, Missouri.
Miss Harriett-Louise Patterson, Minister, Chesterland Community Church, Ohio.
Henry King Shaw, Minister, Washington Avenue Church of Christ, Elyria, Ohio.
Dwight E. Stevenson, Professor of Homiletics, College of the Bible, Phillips University, Enid, Oklahoma.

Term Expiring 1954
W. Barnett Blackmore, Dean, Disciples Divinity House, Chicago, Illinois.
*Lin D. Cartwright, Editor, The Christian Evangelist, St. Louis, Missouri.
Stephen J. England, Dean, College of the Bible, Phillips University, Enid, Oklahoma.

Term Expiring 1955
James DeForest Murch, Editor, United Evangelical Action, Cincinnati, Ohio.
*Herman A. Norton, Director, Disciples House, Nashville, Tennessee.
Orval D. Peterson, Minister, First Christian Church, Yakima, Washington.
*Forrest F. Reed, President, Tennessee Book Company, Nashville, Tennessee.
*Rhodes Thompson, Minister, Christian Church, Paris, Kentucky.

Looking Ahead
Plans are now being made for a clinic to be held at the International Convention at Portland, Oregon, probably Wednesday afternoon, July 8, 1953, on the subject Making the Most of Local Church History. This will deal with such subjects as Keeping Adequate Church Records, Observing Anniversaries, and Writing Local Church Histories. The expectation is that from this clinic will come the material for a published manual for local church historians. Suggestions for participants in this program will be gratefully received by the Curator.

W. E. Garrison, Professor, University of Houston, Houston, Texas.
*Andrew P. Martin, Attorney, Cleveland, Ohio.
J. Edward Moseley, Contributing Editor, World Call, Indianapolis, Indiana.
Roland E. Osborn, Head of the Department of Church History, School of Religion, Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana.
*Howard F. Short, Professor of Church History, College of the Bible, Lexington, Kentucky.
Louis A. Warren, Director, Lincoln National Life Foundation, Fort Wayne, Indiana.
*William G. West, Minister, First Christian Church, Chattanooga, Tennessee.
Miss Eva Jean Wrather, Writer, Nashville, Tennessee.

ZOLLARS OUT OF PRINT

The biography, Ely Vaughn Zollars: Teacher of Preachers, Builders of Colleges, by Ronald E. Osborn, is now out of print.

The author has recently secured the last few copies, and these are available to libraries of individuals at the list price of $2.50 each. If interested, write to Prof. Osborn at the School of Religion, Butler University, Indianapolis 7, Indiana.
NEW BOOKS RECEIVED

All current books received from authors or publishers are briefly mentioned in this column each issue:

Arnold, Charlotte

Contains readings, recitations, poems, playlets and completely planned programs for special occasions.

Cheverton, Cecil Frank

Intended as a rapid survey for newcomers to the Old Testament. The author is chairman of the Department of Religion, Texas Christian University.

Daugherty, Edgar Fay

The interesting and witty autobiography of a long time minister in Indiana, now retired.

Hall, Flavil

A collection of addresses, sermons, essays and poems.

Harris, Mark

"An interpretative biography of Vachel Lindsay, being also the story of Springfield, Illinois, USA, and of the love of the poet for that city, that state and that nation." (Gift of Forrest F. Reed)

Hearn, C. Aubrey

The author approaches the problem of alcoholism with the conviction that prevention is better than cure. Practical suggestions are given as to what Christians as individuals and groups can do to combat the evil.

Hearn, Roy J.

Kerigan, Florence

Ready made devotional talks, with prayers, and suggested hymns.

Ladd, James Earl
"As Much As in Me Is...", and Other Sermons. Portland, Ore., Central Christian Church, 1951. 225 pages. Front. (port.)

A book of sermons by the lately deceased minister of the Portland Central Church of Christ published on demand of the congregation of that church. The sermons were transcribed from recordings made at the time of delivery.

Matthews, Paul

The author discusses the present positions of the Catholic church and traces its history through the centuries.

Miller, Mayme Garner (Mrs. Gerald Layton Miller)

Inspirational poems with themes related to the church: stewardship, missions, Sunday school work, and various special occasions.

Murch, James DeFrost

A critique of the National Council of Churches of Christ.

Norton, Herman A.

Prayers offered by the Chaplain at the opening of the daily sessions of the Senate of Tennessee during the 77th General Assembly.

Otey, William Wesley

A discussion of the issues involved in the controversy over "Centralized control" of missions.

Roth, Oliver N.

A series of addresses given over station KANS, Wichita.

Sechler, Earl Truman

Contains history, membership lists, biographies, and pictures.
MUSEUM MATERIAL

Souvenir plates have been received from the Ninth Street Christian Church, Logansport, Ind., and the First Christian Church of Longview, Texas.

Miss Imo Evans, Lathrop, Mo., sent a cup and saucer that had been used in the "old country" by Thomas and Alexander Campbell who were frequent visitors in the home of her ancestors.

Barclay Phinizey, Belton, Texas, gave a water color painting of the Alexander Campbell Home in Bethany, W. Va., done by Sarah Barclay Johnson. The exact date of the sketch is undetermined. If done before the Barclys went to Jerusalem in 1851, the artist would have been only 15 years old. The picture will be valuable in making plans for the restoration of the Home as it plainly shows architectural design and ground landscaping. Mr. Phinizey also gave a pen and ink sketch (signed with initials W. H. W.) of the house in which the Barclys lived in Jerusalem and some water color scenes of Palestine painted by Sarah Barclay Johnson.

ROBISON FIRST HONORARY MEMBER

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Society in Chicago Monday afternoon, May 19, Henry Barton Robison was elected the first honorary member of the Society. This was done on recommendation of the members at the annual meeting that assembled in the morning.

Dr. Robison, now retired, was head of the Department of Religion at Culver-Stockton College from 1910 to 1944. Long before the organization of the Society he was interested in the historical implications of the Disciples and related religious groups. During the early years of the Society he gave to the Curator freely of his counsel and advice.

In 1928 the collection of Disciple material then being gathered at Culver-Stockton was named in his honor by the Ministerial Association of the college. This collection remains at Culver-Stockton.

At the present time Dr. Robison is living in Madison, Wisconsin, with his daughter, Mrs. Howard Kennedy Beale, and family. Although 85 years old, he was able to attend the Chicago convention and enjoyed very much the meeting of former students and life-long friends.

QUOTATIONS

Union Among Disciples

In replying to a proposal that 16 questions concerning faith and practice among the reforming churches be asked those churches, Alexander Campbell said:

"The world will end before all Christians of any age will agree on these points; and if they did, they would make them neither more spiritually-minded, nor more useful, nor more happy in the world."

Millennial Harbinger, August 1844

Third Series, Vol. 1, no. 8, p. 346

The Disciples of Christ Historical Society was established May 7, 1941, in St. Louis, Missouri, with the approval of the International Convention then in session. The organization of the new agency came as a result of the work of the Historical Commission appointed by the 1939 convention which met in Richmond, Virginia. It is the only organization among Disciples of Christ whose sole purpose is the locating, collecting, cataloging and arranging for use the historical materials of the brotherhood. The Society is custodian of International Convention and World Convention archives by official action of those conventions.

The purpose of the Society is to maintain and further interest in the religious heritage, backgrounds, origins, development, and general history of Disciples of Christ, Christian Churches, Churches of Christ, and related groups. The Society is not an opinion forming group.

From 1941 until 1946 the Society had no designated headquarters, and these years were spent largely in surveying the field, correlating the interest of various groups, and making plans. In 1946 the Society accepted the generous offer of Culver-Stockton College to set up its headquarters and archives there with the privilege of using the Henry Barton Robinson Collection as a nucleus around which the Society would build its own collection of materials.

Since April 1952, the Society's headquarters, library and archives have been in Nashville, Tennessee, located in the Joint University Library on the Vanderbilt campus. Nashville was designated as the permanent location of the Society because of the unique opportunity offered for participation in the building of an American church history center and for the subsidy granted by the Nashville Planning Committee which enabled the Society to further its expansion program. Plans are being made for the eventual erection of a building to house the rapidly growing collection of books, pamphlets, periodicals, manuscripts, and museum materials which the Society has been receiving since its formation.

The Society solicits all kinds of historical materials pertaining to the Disciples of Christ and related groups. Authors and publishers are requested to send copies of all new publications. Churches, organizations and institutions are urged to place the Society on their mailing lists to receive all printed materials. The Society and Bethany College share joint responsibility, through the Campbell Home Committee, for the restoration, preservation, and management of the Alexander Campbell mansion at Bethany, West Virginia.

The Society offers membership to individuals, congregations, institutions, and organizations who are in agreement with the purpose of the Society to maintain and further interests in the religious heritage, backgrounds, origins, development, and general history of Disciples of Christ, Christian churches, Churches of Christ, and related groups. Classes of membership and dues are as follows:

BOOK AND PAPERS

From J. J. Spencer Library

Baptists and Disciples have been talking reunion for over a hundred years. W. T. Moore said in 1908 that he had been a member of five different union committees during the preceding forty years. In 1906 another move, not for union, but for better understanding, was started by the National Congress of the Disciples of Christ. This resulted in joint meetings of the Congress with the Baptist Congress a few years later.

In 1908 two committees of ten members each were set up to explore the similarity and diversity of belief of Baptists and Disciples, and formulate a joint doctrinal statement. E. Y. Mullins, of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky., headed the Baptist group, and I. J. Spencer, of the Central Christian Church, Lexington, Ky., was chairman of the Disciples committee. Each chairman selected the other nine members of his committee.

Seven of the nine members of Mr. Spencer’s committee were: J. H. Garrison, W. F. Richardson, C. S. Medbury, W. T. Moore, E. B. Wakefield, H. L. Willett, and J. B. Briney. The interesting correspondence of this committee has recently been placed in the Society archives along with ten letter files of Mr. Spencer’s correspondence with other brotherhood leaders during his fifty years in the ministry.

These letters, together with many books, periodicals, pamphlets, programs, and pictures came to the Society as the gift of two daughters, Miss Evelyn H. Spencer, of Ashland, Va., and Mrs. William B. Ardery of Paris, Ky. Received also were the papers, letters, and books of Miss Jesse Pendleton Spencer, a third daughter, a leader in religious education work, who died in 1949.

Issac Jesse Spencer, 1851-1923, was an outstanding minister among Disciples. For more than twenty-five years he served the Central Christian Church in Lexington, Ky., and at the same time was a member of various educational and institutional boards of the brotherhood, such as Hamilton College, Transylvania College, Board of Ministerial Relief, National Commission on Christian Unity, Board of Christian Publication, (Continued on page 43)

LETTERS FROM JAMAICA

W. H. Williams Saved His

Late in 1876 William Henry Williams, his wife Martha Jane Garton Williams, and baby, were sent to Jamaica as missionaries by the newly organized Christian Woman’s Board of Missions. There they took up the work previously started in 1858 by J. O. Beardsley of the American Christian Missionary Society and continued by him for only a few years.

Mr. Williams was a methodical man and kept a lettercopy book of the letters he wrote from Jamaica, starting January 2, 1877, and ending when he left the island, March 13, 1879, a total of 233 letters. These were written to members of his family, friends, churches, business firms, and to the Christian Woman’s Board of Missions officers. To this organization he wrote 49 letters, most of which were reports about his work.

Through the thoughtfulness of John M. Hoffman of San Leandro, Calif., Mr. Williams’ letters are now in the Society archives. Mr. Hoffman’s mother, Carrie H. Williams Hoffman, was born in Jamaica, the second child of the missionary family.

The letters are the sources from which history is written and are a very valuable addition to our materials concerning early Disciple missionary work.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA. CENTRAL CHURCH RECORDS RECEIVED

Recently Mrs. Altha Conner Wheatley and Mrs. Freda Patton of the Central Christian Church, Huntington, W. Va., brought to the archives the records of the church for safe keeping. Those records, which date from 1891 (the beginning of the church) to 1945, include 7 record books and 19 manila folders.

The books have the record of the organization of the church, membership lists, minutes of congregation and board meetings and financial records. The folders contain correspondence, reports, programs, printed history and directories, and financial statements.

Thus, another church has taken the opportunity to place its original, unreplaceable records with the Society for preservation.
COLLEGIANA

During the past two years a special effort has been made to increase our holdings of college material: Catalogs, bulletins, yearbooks, and student publications. Since our last report many new items have come to our library, but as yet we have only a fraction of the tremendous output of printed and duplicated publications issued from the more than 300 educational institutions with which Disciples have been identified.

From the Disciples Divinity House, Chicago, Ill., have been received 64 catalogs from the following institutions: Bethany College, Butler University, Carr-Burdette College, Chapman College, Christian College, The College of Missions, The College of the Bible, Corner College, Drake University, Eureka College, Eugene Bible University, Johnson Bible College, Phillips University, Southern Christian Institute, Spokane University, Texas Christian University, Transylvania College, and William Woods College.

From B. C. Goodpasture, Nashville, we received Burritt, Our Alma Mater, by Ramsey, and Franklin College and Its Influence, by Scobey.

Kenneth C. Hanson, Redwood Falls, Minn., sent the catalogs of Minnesota Bible College for 1916-47, 1949-50, 1951-52, and 1952-53, together with programs of various events at that school; and several Reports from Cincinnati Bible Seminary.

The Library of Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, Va., sent the following: A History of Lynchburg College by Katherine Allison and others (mimeographed); The Argonaut, yearbook, for 1907, 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1919, 1920, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1936, 1939, 1942, 1945, 1949, and 1950; The Hornet, handbook, for 1929-30, 1931-32, 1936-37, 1938-39, 1940-41, 1942-43, 1944-45, 1946-47, and 1947-48; The Prism, student literary magazine; and student publications. Since our last report many new items have come to our library, but as yet we have only a fraction of the tremendous output of printed and duplicated publications issued from the more than 300 educational institutions with which Disciples have been identified.

EARLY PERIODICALS

From Miss Anne M. White of Richmond, Va., we secured several books, periodicals and pamphlets of rare value. Received were:

The Apostolic Advocate, Richmond, Va., vols. 1 and 2, 1834-1836, edited by John Thomas.

Advocate for the Testimony of God, Amelia County, Va., vol. 4, no. 5, September 1837, and no. 10, February 1838, edited by John Thomas.

The Christian Publisher, Charlottesville, Va., vol. 1, no. 8, June 1, 1837, ed. by R. L. Colman.

The Christian Publisher, Richmond, Va., vol. 1, new series, 1839, edited by J. Henshall.

Jeter, J. T.—Campbellism Examined, 1855.

Thomas—Elpis Israel, 1851.

The Campbell-Purcell Debate, 1837, 3 copies of the 2d issue with page 360 a part of the printed book instead of being an added unnumbered page inserted after the first issue was printed.

Campbell—Christian Baptism.

Barclay—The City of the Great King.

The Christian Hymnal, 1874.

Millennial Harbinger, 12 issues with original covers.

PHOTOS AND A LETTER

Mrs. F. H. Groom, Whittier, Calif., sent an album containing 50 photographs. Included were pictures of A. Campbell, George Campbell, R. Milligan, W. H. Everest, H. T. Anderson, B. H. Smith, M. E. Lard, A. Wilcox, S. M. Jefferson, H. U. Dale, and B. U. Watkins, together with many students from Eureka College during the late 1860's. Other photographs sent were of George T. Carpenter and F. M. Drake, and a group picture of Drake, Dale, Breeden, and Dungan.

With the gift was a letter written by Alexander Campbell to Jesse G. Campbell, May 6, 1863.

GARRISON - DEGROOT MANUSCRIPT

The Christian Board of Publication, St. Louis, Mo., sent to the archives the manuscript of The Disciples of Christ; a History, by Garrison and DeGroot. Included were the various galley and page proofs with corrections made by the authors, also the galley proofs as read and corrected by several brotherhood historians.
CAMPBELL ACCOUNT BOOKS

The Society is now holding, at the order of the Campbell Home Committee, 21 account books used by Alexander Campbell in his various publishing and business interests. These books, previously in the Campbell Home, had for some years been in the custody of the late Irvin T. Green, of Bethany. Upon Prof. Green's death the books were brought to our archives for safe keeping.

Included are 5 subscription lists for the Millennial Harbinger, 1833-1853; 5 day books, 1844-1862; 6 ledgers, 1830-1866; post office book, 1848-1850; Enos Campbell's order book, 1841-1846; hymn book accounts, 1833-1836; and Alexander Campbell, Jr., day book, 1854-1858.

Many of the subscription lists, order, day and ledger books are yet missing from this rare collection. Perhaps future years will see them located and returned to complete the set.

STATE CONVENTIONS

The Curator attended the Alabama, Kentucky and Ohio state conventions with exhibits, each of which showed items of interest for the particular convention. Some of our members represented the Society at other state conventions: Clyde H. Evans, at Minnesota; Edgar O. Wright, at Kansas; Mrs. Daisy Avery, at Virginia; and Earl C. Lewis, at Louisiana.

From these conventions we secured programs, badges, and reports, and picked up from various display tables promotional materials not in our library. Special attention should be called to the various programs from the Ohio convention which celebrated its 100th anniversary. The general program of the convention contained "A Word About the Ohio Disciples of Christ" by Henry K. Shaw. The communion service was an old time one, compiled by Mr. Shaw from Alexander Campbell's A Connected View of the Principles and Rules by Which the Living Oracles May Be Intelligibly and Certainly Interpreted of the Foundation on Which All Christians May Form One Communion, 1835.

The convention pageant was written by Paul Hunter Beckley and was based on Mr. Shaw's Buckeye Disciples. A copy of the original mimeographed script was obtained for our library.

Mr. James F. Helms spent a week recently in our archives securing material for the Disciple section of his Ph.D. thesis, University of Texas, The Origin and Growth of Protestantism in Mexico.

MORE CAMPBELLIANA

Miss Eva Jean Wrather brought to the Society from Robert M. Campbell, Santa Monica, Calif., 34 books, 4 pamphlets, 2 photographs and 2 manuscript items. Nearly all the books were originally in the Alexander Campbell library or in that of Alexander Campbell, Jr.

There are six volumes of pamphlets, labeled Miscellaneous Papers, bound for use in Campbell's library. These are numbered 3, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 (where are nos. 1, 2, and 4?) In volume 7 is Facts and Documents Respecting the Connections Which Have Subsisted Between Robert Haldane, Esq. and Greville Ewing... by Greville Ewing, Glasgow, 1809. The fly leaf is inscribed: "Mr. Campbell from his friend Greville Ewing." Another item of interest is Dissertation on Christian Character... by Jonas Hartzell, 1844, in vol. 9. Still another is Speech Delivered at the First Exhibition of the Ohio and Brooke Agricultural Society by W. K. Pendleton, 1842.

The two photographs were of Alexander Campbell and Point Breeze. Miss Wrather also received for us from Archibald Campbell, Phoenix, Arizona, nine photographs, including Alexander Campbell, Jr., his sons, and Uncle Sanford and Aunt Emily, Negro servants of A. C., Jr.

MICROCARDS FOR CHRISTIAN EVIDENCES

Henry Shaw, Elyria, Ohio, gave a very rare bound periodical, edited and published by Aylett Raines in Cincinnati, Ohio, Christian Evidences, Vol. 1, May 1, 1829, to March 1, 1830. (The March number was a double issue completing the volume and ending the publication).

In the last issue Raines gives his religious autobiography and tells of his reasons for withdrawing from the Universalists and affiliating with New Testament Christianity. Since Christian Evidences is not entered in The Union List of Serials, we are having it reprinted in a microcard edition. The cost will not exceed $1.50. Those interested should place orders immediately.

Dr. A. F. Kuhlman, Nashville, presented the Society with a copy of The Bulletin of Bibliography, January-April, 1952, which had an article of appreciation concerning Edward A. Henry, Librarian Emeritus of the University of Cincinnati, now senior cataloger for the Joint University Library, Nashville. Dr. Henry, long time Disciple, has given many valuable items to the Society during the past ten years.
A DREAM REALIZED? II
What Our Members Can Do

Now that the Society is finally established in full-time operation, and has chosen Nashville as its permanent location, we can see the dream of long years being realized. But that realization is not complete and will not be completed until the Society is on a firm financial foundation with adequate membership support from individuals and churches.

That support can come only after the members of our churches gain a thorough knowledge of the Society: What it is, what it has done, and what it plans to do. Society members can be of immense help in distributing our literature and explaining the work of the Society to the members of their local churches. Talk Historical Society!

Then, too, our Society members should be constantly on the lookout for individuals, organizations and churches that are in need of some service we can render, and refer them to us for that service. Perhaps the church doesn’t know what to do with its records in order to keep them safe. Talk Historical Society!

In many localities there are books, periodicals, pamphlets, letters, pictures, manuscripts and personal mementos that should be preserved for the use of future generations. Our members can make contact for us. Talk Historical Society!

When all this is done, financial support will come. Our members can solicit individual annual, subscribing, sustaining or patron memberships, and see that their local churches become congregational members. Talk Historical Society!

The time is not ten years, five years, one year, or six months hence, but is now. The opportunity is here. In order to carry on our program, additional finances must be had. Many individuals and congregations must become acquainted with the work we are doing so that they may catch our dream too. Talk Historical Society!

QUOTATIONS

“Because of their exaggerated individualism and lack of denominational organization, the people of the Christian churches throughout the country are most readily responsive to the changes in social sentiment and ideals which mark the progress of civilization...”

Dr. R. P. Shepherd, Editor of the Christian Board of Publication and chairman of the Press Committee, International Convention, 1912.

From The Christian-Evangelist, October 24, 1912, p. 1517.

“Our ministers have always been very negligent in teaching the duty of liberality to benevolent purposes.”

Thomas Munnell

From the Millennial Harbinger, 1867, p. 139.

lege yearbook, for 1898; Transylvania College Quarterly Bulletin for November 1919; College of the Bible Quarterly Bulletin for May 1917; College of the Bible catalog 1919-20; printed and manuscript materials concerning the College of the Bible controversy during the 1915-20 period; and The Hamiltonian of Hamilton College, for May 1931.

The curator picked up from display tables at various state conventions and elsewhere college material as follows: The Transylvanian, Spring 1952; Report of Transylvania College, 1952; College of the Bible Report, 1952; Kentucky Female Orphan School Financial Report, 1952; and various promotional items from Hiram College, Transylvania College and the College of the Bible.

Howard Stephenson, Midway, Ky., gave a folder with Kentucky Female Orphan School current promotional material; and a typewritten copy of the centennial speech of Edgar DeWitt Jones at KFOS, October 2, 1949.

Mrs. T. F. A. Williams, Lincoln, Neb., sent the Announcement of the Fourth Annual Session of the Summer School, Drake University, 1888; and a newspaper clipping concerning faculty changes at Drake about 1888.

Spencer Gift

On his return from Virginia, the curator brought a car load of the materials of this gift, and in addition sent six cartons of books by express.

Not all of the 142 books received can be listed. These were immediately cataloged and placed on our shelves: Bentley—Illustrious Chinese Christians; Campbell-Owen Debate, 1854; American Christian Publication Society imprint; Campbell-Purcell Debate—The Battle of the Giants, 1875; Campbell and others—Psalms, Hymns and Spiritual Songs, 1843; Coffey—My Life With God; Cunningham—Letters to Our Children; Dunagan—Hermeneutics; Fairhurst—Organic Evolution Considered; Grubbs—New Commentary on Romans; Hayden—Church Polity; Lawrence—Housing the Sunday School; Quinter and McConnell—Debate on Trine Immersion; Milligan—The Great Commission, 1st ed.; Monser—Types and Metaphors of the Bible; Moore—Life of Timothy Coop; Mullins—My Life Is an Open Book; Pierson—The White Church; Pounds—The Iron-Clad Pledge and Pioneer Missionaries; Quick—Mysticism Unmasked; Rogers—Autobiography; Rowe—History of Reformatory Movements; Scott—The Messiahship, 1859, first issue without the initials W. S., at the end of the poem "Jacob and the Angel" on page 384; Stuart—Errors of Campbellism; Vogel—Tale of a Pioneer Church; and Zolars—Hebrew Prophecy and The Word of Truth.

Among the periodicals were single issues and volumes of The Missionary Intelligencer; The Missionary Voice; The Philippine Christian; The Japan Harbinger; The Messenger; The Christian Helper; The Atlantic Missionary; The Christian Union Quarterly; The American Home Missionary; and a nearly complete file of The Church Leaflet, Central Christian Church, Lexington, Ky., 1897-1900.

Included with the 49 pamphlets were: Hartzell—Church Discipline; The Constitution and By-Laws of the Ministerial Association of the Disciples of Christ in Virginia, 1891; Report of the Joint Committee of the Memorial Baptist Church and the First Christian Church of Chicago, 1908; Campbell—"On Moral Societies", The Religious Liberty Library, May 1898; and publications nos. 26 and 27 of the World Conference on Faith and Order.

Two extra special items were the original handwritten minutes of the Joint Board of the Virginia Christian Missionary Society and the Virginia State Meeting, 1886-1887; and a photograph of Alexander Campbell "published by E. & H. Anthony, New York, from a photographic negative in Brady's National Portrait Gallery."

The Disciples of Christ Historical Society was established May 7, 1941, in St. Louis, Missouri, with the approval of the International Convention then in session. The organization of the new agency came as a result of the work of the Historical Commission appointed by the 1939 convention which met in Richmond, Virginia. It is the only organization among Disciples of Christ whose sole purpose is the locating, collecting, cataloging and arranging for use the historical materials of the brotherhood. The Society is custodian of International Convention and World Convention archives by official action of those conventions.

The purpose of the Society is to maintain and further interest in the religious heritage, backgrounds, origins, development, and general history of Disciples of Christ, Churches of Christ, and related groups. The Society is not an opinion forming group.

From 1941 until 1946 the Society had no designated headquarters, and these years were spent largely in surveying the field, correlating the interest of various groups, and making plans. In 1946 the Society accepted the generous offer of Culver-Stockton College to set up its headquarters and archives there with the privilege of using the Henry Barton Robinson Collection as a nucleus around which the Society would build its own collection of materials.

Since April 1952, the Society's headquarters, library and archives have been in Nashville, Tennessee, located in the Joint University Library on the Vanderbilt campus. Nashville was designated as the permanent location of the Society because of the unique opportunity offered for participation in the building of an American church history center and for the subsidy granted by the Nashville Planning Committee which enabled the Society to further its expansion program. Plans are being made for the eventual erection of a building to house the rapidly growing collection of books, pamphlets, periodicals, manuscripts, and museum materials which the Society has been receiving since its formation.

The Society solicits all kinds of historical materials pertaining to the Disciples of Christ and related groups. Authors and publishers are requested to send copies of all new publications. Churches, organizations and institutions are urged to place the Society on their mailing lists to receive all printed materials.

The Society and Bethany College share joint responsibility, through the Campbell Home Committee, for the restoration, preservation, and management of the Alexander Campbell mansion at Bethany, West Virginia.

The Society offers membership to individuals, congregations, institutions, and organizations who are in agreement with the purpose of the Society to maintain and further interests in the religious heritage, backgrounds, origins, development, and general history of Disciples of Christ, Christian Churches, Churches of Christ, and related groups. Classes of membership and dues are as follows:

James E. McKinney Becomes Executive Director

The Board of Directors of the Society announces the appointment of James E. McKinney, Nashville, as Executive Director of the Society. Mr. McKinney, a well known Nashville radio figure, has been Program Director of radio station WSIX for the past eighteen months and resigned that position to go on the staff of the Society February 9.

Prior to his association with WSIX, Mr. McKinney was Program Director at WKDA in Nashville for four and a half years. He started his radio career at WLVA, Lynchburg, Virginia, while a ministerial student at Lynchburg College. Following his graduation he was employed by WRVA, Richmond, Virginia, and came to Nashville in 1945, where he entered the Vanderbilt University School of Religion while being employed on the announcing staff at WSM.

As an undergraduate, Mr. McKinney served Virginia churches in Roanoke and Richmond. Since coming to Nashville he

DCHS Announces Services for Local Churches

Early in December the Society released through a two-page mimeographed brochure a statement concerning the services now available to local churches. Following are the services listed:

1. Give advice in regard to the research, writing, and publishing of local church histories.
2. Loan packets of previously printed church histories.
3. Give advice in the preparation of programs for the celebration of church anniversaries.
4. Loan packets of anniversary programs of other churches.
5. Make suggestions for speakers on historical topics.
6. Prepare reading lists about special phases of brotherhood history.
7. Loan to church groups materials for a study of brotherhood history.
8. Loan packets of exhibit materials, including slides, on historical subjects.
9. Preserve the history of the local church for future generations by keeping files of periodicals, bulletins, orders of worship, reports, pictures, and other materials.
10. Make suggestions in regard to the keeping of church records.
11. Offer a safe place for the storage of original church records, minutes of board and congregational meetings, etc.
12. Provide microfilm and photocopy service at a cost charge.
13. Answer specific historical questions concerning brotherhood individuals and activities.
14. Welcome and help at all times members of local churches who come to work in the library and archives.

The brochure also gives these suggestions for churches about the ways in which they can help the Society continue and expand in efficient operation:

*These services are not now ready or are on a limited basis only, but will be obtainable as financial support is increased, duplicate materials are received, and staff time becomes available.

THE CAMPBELL HOME PROJECT

"If all of the 874 churches that have made pledges, or promised to take collections will make their payments on schedule the Campbell Home restoration is assured," said Hubert Barnett after a meeting of the Campbell Home Committee in Indianapolis February 4. "But there is a whole lot of money to be collected yet before work can start," he added.

The Committee made plans for a follow-up program to insure the payment of commitments made by churches during the campaign which closed December 31, 1952. "Although solicitation of funds from churches is no longer being made, any church that desires to have a part in the repair, restoration, and development of the Home in which Alexander Campbell lived for nearly fifty years can make a voluntary payment at any time," said Mr. Barnett. All money should be sent to The Campbell Home Committee, Bethany College, Bethany, West Virginia.

A report on the results of the campaign will be prepared to send to individuals and churches that made contributions or pledges.

Members of the Committee attending the meeting were: Hubert Barnett, Wheeling, W. Va.; B. R. Weimar and Warner Peterson, Bethany, W. Va.; Henry K. Shaw, Elyria, Ohio; W. H. Cramblet, St. Louis, Mo.; and Claude E. Spencer, Nashville, Tenn.

ALEXANDER CAMPBELL TODAY

Alexander Campbell and His Relevance for Today, by Eva Jean Wrathe, is the title of a 12-page mimeographed pamphlet recently issued under the imprint of the Society. It was originally given as an address before the Tennessee Christian Ministers Institute, January 12, in Nashville.

Single copies will be sent postpaid upon the receipt of 25 cents, or 10 copies for $1.50.

COLLEGEANA

We continue the separate listing (started in the October 1952 issue) of all college materials received. No part of the literature of the restoration movement has been so neglected in collection and preservation as have the publications of our colleges. We are making a special effort to gather the college materials before the older items are completely lost.

In each number of DISCIPLIANA we expect to mention a college that has ceased to exist and make a call for its periodicals, yearbooks, bulletins, and promotional materials, together with pictures and other illustrative pieces.

Southeastern Christian College of Auburn, Georgia, is one of the institutions about which we have little information. The college building and grounds (Perry-Rainy Institute) were purchased from the Baptists, and the first session started September 7, 1915. John H. Wood was the first president, and E. L. Shelnutt was president when the institution closed about 1924 or 1925. A student annual, The Cherokee, was published. We shall greatly appreciate receiving information about Southeastern Christian College together with its published material.

*   *   *

From Cincinnati Bible Seminary we have received the Annual Bulletins, 1951-52 and 1952-53; The Anchor, alumni publication, 10 issues, 1935-1952; "Go Ye", 10 issues, 1948-1952; and The Report, 31 issues, 1950-1952. We have also been placed on the mailing list to receive future publications.

From The College of the Bible, Bosworth Memorial Library, we have received: Memorial of J. K. Rogers and Christian College, 1885; College of the Bible Bulletin, November 1947, January, March, July, September 1948, July 1949, and July 1950; College of the Bible Quarterly, October 1917, January, April, July, October 1918, December 1920, November 1922, July 1923, November 1924, March 1925, January 1947, January 1948, and October 1951; Student-Faculty Directory, 1952-53, College of the Bible.

James A. Crain, Indianapolis, Ind., sent a copy of the Drake University yearbook, The '09 Quax.

A. T. DeGroot, Fort Worth, Texas, sent a copy of the long looked for Star's Road by Stern, a novel by a former student of Butler University that supposedly depicts life on the Butler campus about 1930.

Kenneth C. Hanson, Redwood Falls, Minn., sent The Eastern Call, vol. 1, no. 1, December 1952, of Cincinnati Bible Seminary.

ALEXANDER CAMPBELL, 1788-1866

A reproduction of an original photograph in the library of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society, Nashville, Tennessee. The photograph is from a negative in Mathew Brady's National Portrait Gallery and was presented to the Society by Miss Evelyn H. Spencer, Ashland, Virginia and Mrs. William B. Ardery, Paris, Kentucky.
Mr. McLean in commenting upon salaries indicates that his own salary has not averaged over $1,200 a year for his many years work, but that men with families should be paid much more.

HISTORY IN THE LOCAL CHURCH

As a part of its expanded program of services for local churches, the Society is sponsoring a service clinic that will survey History in the Local Church at the International Convention of Disciples of Christ in Portland, Oregon, Monday, July 6.

Topics included for discussion will be: Keeping and Preserving Local Church Records, Anniversary Celebrations, Research for a Local Church History, Writing a History, and Printing Make-up of a History. Claude E. Spencer, Society curator, who will have charge of the clinic, will be assisted by James E. McKinney, Executive Director. Discussion leaders will be announced later.

The clinic will be open to convention goers. Local church historians, especially, are urged to attend and take part in the discussions. Churches planning anniversary celebrations within the next few years will gain valuable assistance through the findings of the clinic.

History in the Local Church is one of several clinics for which various national agencies of the Disciples will be responsible.

YEAR BOOK 1952

The much heralded 1952 Year Book is out! From the title page (with entirely new wording) to the last page (a total of 820), there is great improvement over the books of preceding years. It is a much more usable book than former editions.

The whole arrangement is better. For the first time in years the annual report of each agency is placed with the agency directory. That is sensible and makes for easier use. An expanded and workable index locates wanted information more quickly.

The summary section is greatly enlarged with rearrangement of material. An added feature is "Highlights" with questions and answers about brotherhood life and activities. One could wish, however, that the space at the end of this section could have been used for two questions concerning the work of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society, the only agency maintaining a headquarters staff that is not mentioned.

Improvement can still be made in future editions of the book. There are glaring inconsistencies in the listing of papers published by Disciples of Christ. To be consistent some periodicals should be dropped, or many more added. We are still unhappy about the form of county indexing in the church statistics section.

The 1952 Year Book is a must buy for ministers, churches, and all laymen who want to keep informed about the work of the Christian churches.

PROJECT PROPOSED

The Disciples of Christ Historical Society and Microcards, A Project Proposed is the title of an 8 page pamphlet recently mimeographed and sent to college presidents, librarians, and other interested individuals. The booklet has the following sub-divisions: "What Microcards Are", "Why Use Microcards", "The Cost of Microcards", "How the Historical Society Can Help", and "What You Can Do." There is a section that lists possible periodical titles for microcarding.

Since this is a preliminary work intended to invite discussion, it was issued in a very limited edition. A few copies are yet available for persons who did not receive a copy. They may be had on request to the Curator.

VISITORS

Recent out-of-town visitors to our headquarters have been:

DCHS Announces

1. That all printed and mimeographed materials of the church be sent to the Society as issued. Our name should be on all mailing lists.

2. That some individual be asked to act as Society representative for the church. This should be someone vitally interested in history who has a knack for collecting materials. This person would help the Society in the following ways:

a. Collect and forward pictures, programs, newspaper clippings, etc., concerning the church and its activities.

b. Try to complete files of past church publications for our library.

c. Interest church members in becoming members of the Society. (An annual individual membership is only a dollar a year, and each member receives DISCIPLIANA four times a year.)

d. Try to secure for the Society copies of books and pamphlets written by members of the church.

3. That a survey be made of the original records of the church, and if there is any question concerning their present and future safety, they be sent to the Society for storage.

4. That the church become a Congregational member of the Society by placing in its budget provision for yearly dues. (For the schedule of fixed dues see back page of this issue).

Many churches have borrowed packets and consulted the curator since the announcement of the services offered.

NEWS BOOKS RECEIVED

All current books received from authors or publishers are briefly mentioned in this column:

"Third printing 1952, 40,000 copies."

(A gift of Mrs. Carl A. Schaad, Chicago, Ill.)

This book uncovers sources of material about the Kentucky Christians seemingly not used by any of our Disciple historians. Moses G. Thomas, who made a survey trip to the west, was much impressed with Barton W. Stone and his followers.

Wilson, Lawrence Ray. The Triumphant Jesus. Bartlesville, Okla., Mrs. L. R. Wilson, 1952. 271 pages. cloth bound.

Zimmerman, John D. Sunflower Disciples, The Story of a Century, part one. Topeka, Kans., The Kansas Messenger, January 1953. 38 pages, illustrated, paper covers. This history of Kansas Disciples is to be published in parts as the January number of The Kansas Messenger each year for several years. When completed, a limited number of copies will be bound.

Mills Terrace Christian Church, Oakland, Calif., Mills Terrace Christian.
Union Street Christian Church, Schenectady, N. Y., The Schenectady Christian.

THE BEARDED PROPHET

Our reproduction of the Mathew Brady photograph of Alexander Campbell (see page 47) has caused some interesting remarks. Dr. W. M. Forrest of Cuckoo, Va., calls it the "Bearded Prophet" and says, "Pity that so handsome a man concealed himself in his old age with such luxuriant foliage. But it saved a lot of shaving."

William J. Lineback, Washington, D. C., had this to say: "It seems that friend Alexander would never have made the list of Ten Best-Dressed Men in America, but praise be he he had what it took between his ears. We can be grateful to Almighty God that he sent Thomas and Alexander Campbell, 'when the fullness of time was come.'"

ONCE-WERE DISCIPLES

Many well known persons among other religious groups were once Disciples. Perhaps one of the best known was Sidney Rigdon, who became a follower of Joseph Smith soon after the publication of the Book of Mormon.

Other Mormon leaders who were at one time a part of the "reforming Baptists" in Ohio are: Orson Hyde, Edward Partridge, Orson and Parley Pratt, Eliza Snow, Lorenzo Snow, and Newell K. Whitney.

The works of these people belong in our library.

WHO HAS THESE?

In 1928 the Department of Missionary Organizations of the United Christian Missionary Society started a news periodical called Missionary Organizations Bulletin. This was published until 1941 when the March issue was the last one printed.

Our file of this periodical is very incomplete. We shall be grateful to anyone who can send even one needed number.

A check list of our holdings follows:

Vol. 1, 1928, ed. by Alma Evelyn Moore. We need nos. 1-6.
Vol. 2, 1929, ed. by Alma Evelyn Moore and Daisy June Trout. We need no. 2.
Vol. 3, 1930, ed. by Daisy June Trout, Anna M. Clarke, Nora E. Darnall, Mrs. Ora Leigh Shepherd, Alda R. Teachout. We need nos. 4, 7, and 9.
Vol. 4, 1931, ed. by Alda R. Teachout, Ora Leigh Shepherd, Anna M. Clarke, Nora E. Darnall. We need nos. 2, 3, 6, 9.
Vol. 6, 1933, ed. by Ora Leigh Shepherd and Anna M. Clarke. We need nos. 4, 8 and 9.
Vol. 7, 1934, ed. by Ora Leigh Shepherd and Anna M. Clarke. We need nos. 3, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10.
Vol. 8, 1935, ed. by Ora Leigh Shepherd and Helen F. Spaulding. We need nos. 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 8, and 9.
Vol. 9, 1936, ed. by Ora Leigh Shepherd and Helen F. Spaulding. We need nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 8, 9, and 10.
Vol. 10, 1937, ed. by Ora Leigh Shepherd and Helen F. Spaulding. We need nos. 1, 2, 3, 5, 8, and 10.
Vol. 11, 1938, ed. by Ora Leigh Shepherd and Helen F. Spaulding. We need nos. 3, 6, 7, and 9.
Vol. 12, 1939, ed. by Ora Leigh Shepherd and Helen F. Spaulding. We need nos. 2, 3, 4, and 5.
Vol. 13, 1940, ed. by Ora Leigh Shepherd, Helen F. Spaulding, and Mrs. H. B. Marx. We need nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, and 8.
Vol. 14, 1941, ed. by Helen F. Spaulding and Mrs. H. B. Marx. None needed.

News Notes

W. H. Cramblet, St. Louis, Mo., has replaced Ronald E. Osborn as a DCHS representative on the Campbell Home Committee. Other members representing the Society are Henry K. Shaw, Elyria, Ohio, and Claude E. Spencer, Nashville, Tenn. These men, together with three representatives from Bethany College, with a seventh man selected by them to act as chairman, are responsible for the maintenance of the Alexander Campbell Home at Bethany, W. Va.

Claude E. Spencer, Curator, attended the Georgia State Convention, November 10-12, at Decatur, with an exhibit and a presentation of the work of the Society.

Mr. Spencer represented DCHS at the Centennial Founders Day Convocation of Culver-Stockton College, Canton, Mo., January 28. In the evening he attended the Lewis County Culver-Stockton birthday dinner.

New individual cards for DCHS members have the Society seal, indicate the class of membership, and have a place for the date issued to be stamped.

* * *

Congregations, institutions, and organizations upon payment of dues are now receiving for the first time a membership certificate. These certificates, 8 x 10 inches in size, will be issued annually.

Quotation is made elsewhere in this issue of a letter in which A. McLean said, “It is not handling money that costs, but getting money to handle.” How true! Right now we need to handle more membership dues.

The cost in time and postage in collecting annual membership dues is no trifling item in our budget, especially when several notices have to be sent in order to receive a dollar.

There are yet several hundred dollars owing by our members for 1953 and a smaller amount for 1952. A note to members who owe! As soon as you read this, write a check and save us unnecessary expense. You will receive your membership card and our grateful thanks.

The Executive Committee of the Society met at the Hermitage Hotel in Nashville, December 23, 1952. Members present were: Ronald E. Osborn, Indianapolis, Ind.; Robert W. Burns, Atlanta, Ga.; Eva Jean Wrath and Claude E. Spencer, Nashville.

At noon, the Committee was host to a group of ministers and chairmen of the local finance committee responsible for raising the five-year subsidy for DCHS. Present were G. Curtis Jones, Frank Drowota, A. Garnet Day, Howard McCloy, James E. McKinney, Forrest F. Reed, Herman A. Norton, Charles S. Whitaker, Robert T. Turner, John B. Cobb, and Mrs. E. H. Duncan, Jr.
NEWS NOTES

We have an 8 x 10 photograph of an oil painting of Thomas Campbell as a young man that is in the Englewood Christian Church, Portland, Oregon. We hope to have the complete story with an illustration of this unusual portrait in an early issue.

John W. Neth, Jr., Madison, Ind., gave the Society a 1930 vintage multigraph and equipment in good working condition. Many pieces of equipment are yet needed, including: a varietype, a microcard reader, a paper knife, an old fashioned letter copy press, a tape recorder, record player, postal scales, museum cases, and a fireproof safe.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer Pictorial Magazine for March 2, 1952, had a three-page story with pictures about Henry K. Shaw, Minister of Washington Avenue Church of Christ, Elyria, Ohio, and member of the Society Board of Directors.

Collegeana

From Intermountain Bible College, Grand Junction, Colo., we secured 10 numbers of the first volume of The Intermountain Christian, 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Moseley, Indianapolis, Ind., brought the following: Hazel Green Academy News, 4 issues; The Southern Christian Prism, Southern Christian Institute, 5 issues; Cotner College annual, The Bulldog, 1928, 1929, 1930, and 1931; and badges of Cotner College organizations, Lachesis (Women's honor society), Girls Octet (vocal group), and Alpha Psi Omega (dramatic fraternity).

Orval D. Peterson, Yakima, Wash., sent photographs of the preaching students of Eugene Bible University, circa 1927 or 1928, and of Eugene Sanderson, president of the school.

W. E. Schultz, Bloomington, Ill., sent a copy of The Christian University Record, February 1879.

The public relations office, Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky., sent a copy of the 1953 Transylvania College Date Book.

James E. McKinney

has served a number of churches in Tennessee and Kentucky. During 1945-46 he held the pastorate of the Dover Christian Church, Dover, Tennessee, and in 1947 acted as associate minister at Vine Street Christian Church, Nashville. He has also been supply pastor at Seventeenth Street Christian Church, Nashville, and more recently the minister of the historic Belleview Christian Church near Nashville.

Mr. McKinney has been active in civic affairs since coming to Nashville. He is a member of the Nashville Civitan Club and is presently serving as chaplain of that organization. He is a member of the public relations committee of the Nashville Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Preparedness and Disaster Committee of the Red Cross, and has served on committees for many campaigns, such as the March of Dimes, the Community Chest, the Heart Fund, and the Cancer Society campaign.

Mr. McKinney is married and has two children, James Elliott, 7, and Mary Beth, 2. His wife is the former Elizabeth Shearer of Lynchburg, Virginia. They make their home at 257 Fairway Drive in the Merry Oaks section near Donelson.

In his position as Executive Director of the Society, Mr. McKinney will be responsible for interpreting the work of the Society to churches and individuals of Disciples of Christ and related religious groups. He will have charge of the promotional and financial program of the Society and seek funds for general operations and for the proposed building to house Society activities.

In cooperation with the curator, Mr. McKinney will assist in locating and collecting materials for the library and archives. As a part of the expanded services of the Society, he will be available to churches throughout the country for speaking engagements.

QUOTATION:

"Suffer me, my beloved brother, to respectfully suggest that we should not be for the hills of Bethany, the plains of Tennessee, for Bethany or Franklin College, but for the cause of our Master. It is not positively certain that colleges are destined to be of service in the cause of Christ." Tolbert Fanning; in the Millennial Harbinger, fifth series, Vol. 1, no. 4, April 1858, p. 223.
The Disciples of Christ Historical Society was established May 7, 1941, in St. Louis, Missouri, with the approval of the International Convention then in session. The organization of the new agency came as a result of the work of the Historical Commission appointed by the 1939 convention which met in Richmond, Virginia. It is the only organization among Disciples of Christ whose sole purpose is the locating, collecting, cataloging and arranging for use the historical materials of the brotherhood. The Society is custodian of International Convention and World Convention archives by official action of those conventions.

The purpose of the Society is to maintain and further interest in the religious heritage, backgrounds, origins, development, and general history of Disciples of Christ, Christian Churches, Churches of Christ, and related groups. The Society is not an opinion forming group.

From 1941 until 1946 the Society had no designated headquarters, and these years were spent largely in surveying the field, correlating the interest of various groups, and making plans. In 1946 the Society accepted the generous offer of Culver-Stockton College to set up its headquarters and archives there with the privilege of using the Henry Barton Robinson Collection as a nucleus around which the Society would build its own collection of materials.

Since April 1952, the Society's headquarters, library and archives have been in Nashville, Tennessee, located in the Joint University Library on the Vanderbilt campus. Nashville was designated as the permanent location of the Society because of the unique opportunity offered for participation in the building of an American church history center and for the subsidy granted by the Nashville Planning Committee which enabled the Society to further its expansion program. Plans are being made for the eventual erection of a building to house the rapidly growing collection of books, pamphlets, periodicals, manuscripts, and museum materials which the Society has been receiving since its formation.

The Society solicits all kinds of historical materials pertaining to the Disciples of Christ and related groups. Authors and publishers are requested to send copies of all new publications. Churches, organizations and institutions are urged to place the Society on their mailing lists to receive all printed materials.

The Society and Bethany College share joint responsibility, through the Campbell Home Committee, for the restoration, preservation, and management of the Alexander Campbell mansion at Bethany, West Virginia.

The Society offers membership to individuals, congregations, institutions, and organizations who are in agreement with the purpose of the Society to maintain and further interests in the religious heritage, backgrounds, origins, development, and general history of Disciples of Christ, Christian churches, Churches of Christ, and related groups.
